Dedication highlights meaning of holiday

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

While Memorial Day, for many, evokes memories of family get togethers and cookouts, several hundred Antioch residents gathered together Monday morning to remember those who have given their lives in the armed forces. The Village of Antioch and the Antioch VFW Post 4551 held an hour-long presentation to dedicate the new memorial tank.

"It's a great day to be in Antioch," said Brigadier General Oliver Hilliard addressing the crowd. "It is a privilege to be here in Antioch. Today, Americans pause and remember the service of other Americans. Maybe we ought to do it more often."

Hilliard told the group of his 31 years of service in the Army and how during that service several of his comrades had lost their lives. Over time, he said, his view of Memorial Day has changed from focusing on the Indianapolis 500, barbecues, and a long weekend to a time of remembrance.

"Our nation needs many people who have a clear and uncompromising sense of service," Hilliard said.

Naval Captain Hugh J. McCullum also spoke at the dedication. His speech focused on how those in the military serve all citizens, not just the government. "I've always known the real boss," said McCullum. "The people I serve."

Other speakers included Air Force Lt. Colonel Dave Ross, who is the Air Force recruitment officer for the area. "I, for one, salute you all," he said of veterans.

State Sen. Adeline Geo-Karis also gave a brief speech. "I applaud Antioch and the Antioch VFW for the presentation today," she said. "I am so proud of Antioch."

The dedication included music as well as speeches. The Lakes Area Band, the W.C. Petty Grade School Band, the Antioch Upper Grade School Band, and the Antioch High School Marching Band played several selections including an impressive joint effort of all the bands for the "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Jane Miles, who is recovering from an automobile accident, sang the national anthem. In addition, the Community Choir sang several selections including "America the Beautiful" and "God Bless America."

Various Village officials, State Treasurer Judy Barr Topinka, State Rep. Robert Churchill, Lt. Colonel Bruce Dickman, Captain Kathleen Simmons, were just a few of the luminaries present for the dedication. World War I veteran Floyd Horton, World War II veteran Ralph Gussarson, Korean veteran Bob Klug, Vietnam Veteran Dave Gratz, and Desert Storm Veteran Lee Perry were also present.

After a rifle salute and a haunting rendition of "Taps," the American flag and the black POW/MIA flag were raised to half mast by the Antioch American Legion members.

When the dedication was over, everyone seemed a bit teary eyed. And while many were heading off to their cook outs and parties, a true sense of the meaning of Memorial Day would stay with them.

Outage nets students more finals study time

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

A power outage which affected more than 11,000 in Northern Illinois gave seniors at Antioch Community High School a long weekend to study for final exams. Other students received a jump on the long weekend.

According to Commonwealth Edison officials, the power went out at 8:25 a.m. when a transformer failed. While power was restored to many quickly, roughly 4,600 households were without electricity for up to four hours.

"Seniors made up their final exams on Tuesday," said Linda Falasz, an employee at Antioch Community High School. She said students will not be required to make up the day.

Lower grade schools in Antioch did not release the students early because of the difficulties in contacting parents. "The worst thing is we had no phones," said Mary Taylor of Grass Lake School. "We had enough light from the windows in most classrooms." Grass Lake students had a half day scheduled for Friday anyway.

Officials at Emmons School also kept the students despite the outage. While Emmons does have a "phone tree" which allows parents to be contacted in such situations, with many radio phones, officials were concerned the lack of electricity would make phoning impossible. Instead, some teachers held classes outside in the warm sunshine.

Antioch student receives senior of the year award

MARY FOLEY

Bobby Waidzulis, a senior at Round Lake High School SEDOL Program, has won a senior of the year award. Out of the graduating class, only two students were selected. Tasha Halvorson of Round Lake also won an award.

"We went to breakfast with Mr. Briscoe," said Waidzulis. "It was fun." Students receiving the award went to breakfast at the College of Lake County to receive their honors.

Waidzulis has Downs Syndrome, however, his condition has not gotten in the way of his education and future. See AWARD page A5

Motivation is believed to originate from good health, thus it is important to keep fit. If motivation is lost it is usually due to a lack of physical conditioning. Taekwondo is a sport that exercises the entire body, including the vital organs, thus giving the student a high level of motivation. High moral standards cannot be reached without a high level of fitness, so a spiritual awakening can't be had.

Antioch seniors move on to future careers

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

Now that Antioch High School Seniors have graduated, the next phase of their lives begins, work or preparation for the work force.

Many seniors will be attending a four-year college. Some will go to a two-year trade school while others already have pounded the pavement in search of their first full-time job.

A survey of seniors by the award winning Tom-Tom, the school paper, gave a good indication on what career paths students are choosing.

Guidance counselors said they haven't noticed any new trends among this year's class. This class seems similar to many other ones.

"Among the students going to college, it's about 50-50. Some know what field they want to go into while the other aren't sure. That is why it's good the first two years of college are requirements and this gives them a good idea about the different areas," said Marsha Kuceyeski, guidance counselor.

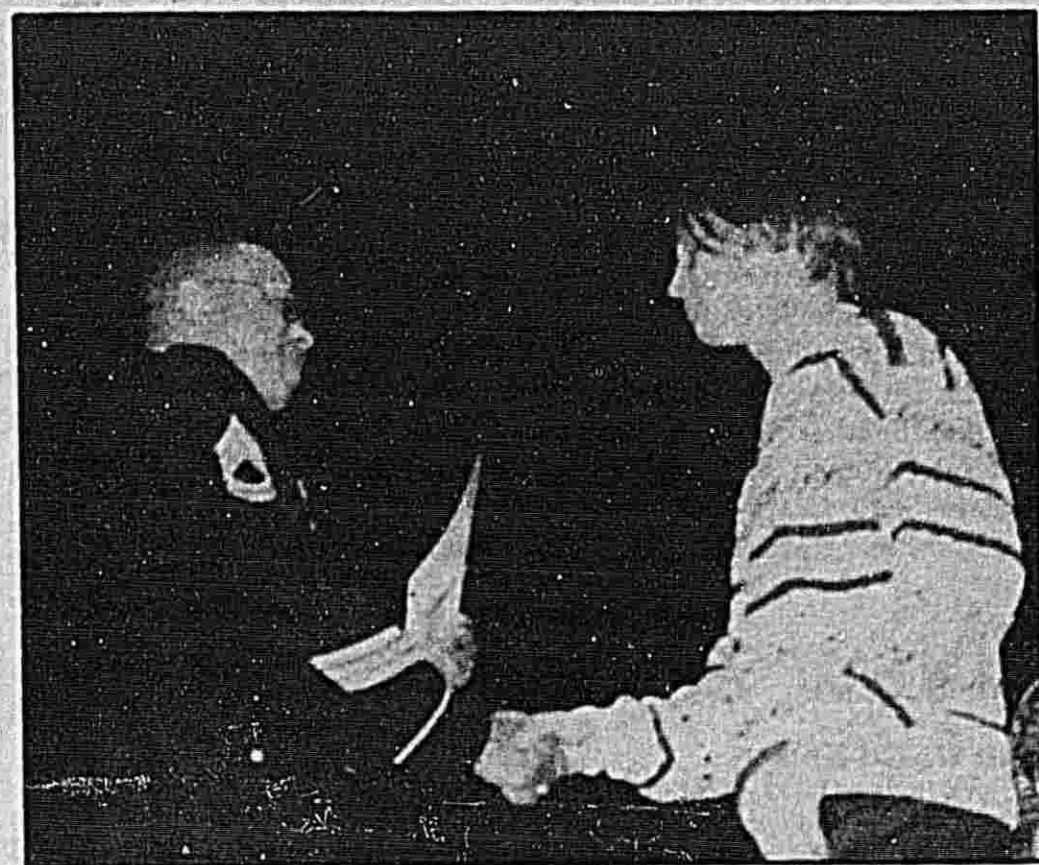

Last year, about 35 percent of students attended a four-year college. Another 26 percent attended a two-year college and the rest attempted to secure a job in the work force.

Students were preparing another survey of graduating seniors for the award-winning Tom Tom.

A majority of students will be going to the College of Lake County. The second college of choice is the University of Illinois.

Of those going to college there seems to be more interest in scientific fields such as engineering and biology, physical therapy and sports medicine.

Some interesting career choices involving newer technologies include genetics, computer graphics and biomedical engineering.

Group discusses sewer progress

MARY FOLEY
Staff Reporter

Members of the United Homeowners Association of Unincorporated Antioch (UHAUA) met in May to discuss the progress of the proposed sewer feasibility study. The study would determine the costs and methods of providing sewer service to unincorporated Antioch Township.

"The feasibility study issue is not dead," said UHAUA President Carole Jonites. "I'm still waiting for signatures."

Jonites said there are many areas along Grass Lake Road which have not responded in regards to the study.

Homeowners and associations are encouraged to send letters of support or voice their opinions against the feasibility study.

The study which is estimated to cost between $50,000 and $75,000 would be funded from fees of current users. If approved by the Lake County Board, the study will be done by an outside contractor.

UHAUA members, in the meantime are preparing letters to be sent to individuals on the Public Service Committee. This committee will either approve or reject the feasibility study proposal.

"We will need to get their support to get this project underway," said Jonites.

No date has been set for the next UHAUA meeting. Members will be notified by mail of the next meeting date. For more information on the proposed study call 395-7371.

COURAGE to celebrate prime-time special

ALEC JUNG
Staff Reporter

A four-community gang prevention group is celebrating a documentary on the group with an afternoon of activities.

June 3 is a special day for Community Outreach Uniting Residents Against Gang Environment (COURAGE). COURAGE will have a fun-fair at the College of Lake County before the WLS-TV documentary at 6:30 p.m.

"We encourage everyone in Lake County to learn about education, intervention and prevention of gangs," said Linda Bergin of COURAGE. "It will be fun for the whole family."

Among the events include rollerblading from 1 to 6 p.m. and a Northern Illinois Medical Center's Flight for Life helicopter will be there from 1 to 3 p.m.

The County K-9 unit will have a demonstration from 2 to 3:30 p.m. Also on hand will be speakers on prevention and intervention of gangs from 3 to 5 p.m. A DJ will be playing tunes throughout the day.

Police departments from 6788

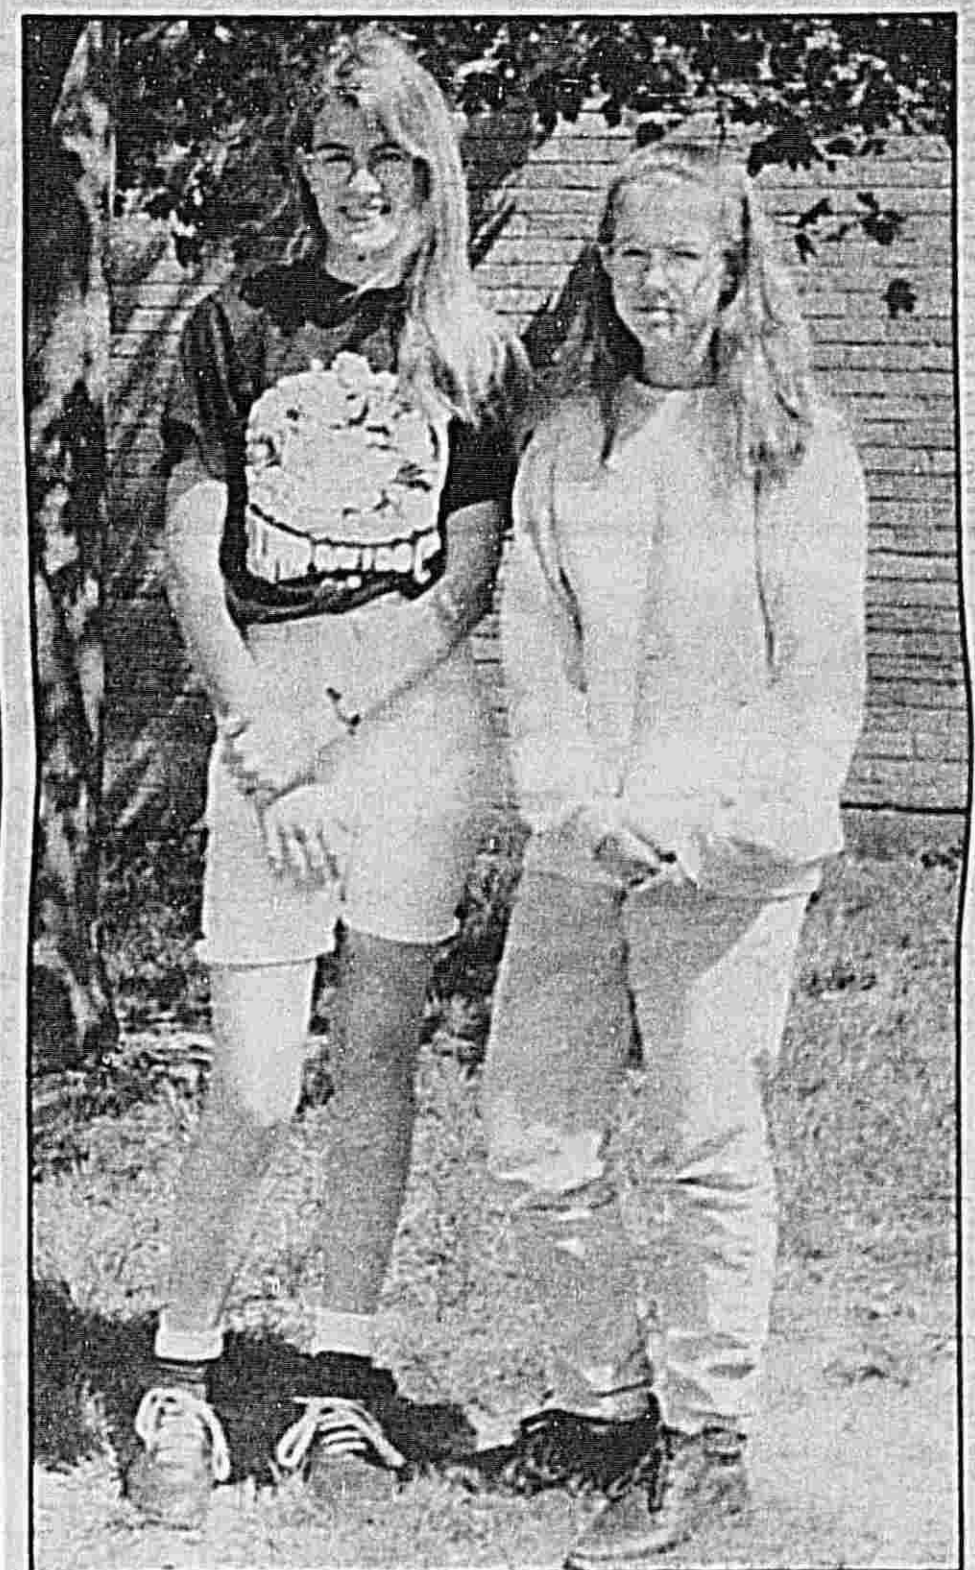

North Lake County will be on hand. The Lake Villa Rescue Squad will be there. The Antioch High School cheerleaders will also have a demonstration.

COURAGE is a combination of Antioch, Grayslake, Lake Villa and Lindenhurst residents who are working to prevent gang involvement in their towns. The teens have a separate group that meets on its own.

In the last year alone, COURAGE teens have assisted in many community functions including helping set up a Halloween Bonfire in Lindenhurst and a Senior/Disabled clean-up day last weekend.

The events will culminate with the viewing of the COURAGE documentary at 6:30 p.m. Channel 7 officials were so excited about the program they pre-empted Wheel-of-Fortune to present the show. The show will be aired in the auditorium at CLC.

If any civic group wants to have a booth or if you want more information, call Bergin at 356-

CAN sells annual raffle tickets

Antioch Community Action Now (CAN) is holding its annual fund-raising raffle. Tickets are still available from any CAN steering committee member or contact Janice Fenske, 395-3936 or Bob Schneider, 395-4444. Only 260 tickets will be sold. Grand prize is $10,000. Second and third prizes are $1,000 each and fourth prize is $500. Raffle date is July 2.

Some of the things CAN has done for the community is the funding of transporting the tank now on permanent display at the corner of Toft and Orchard streets. CAN also funded the beautification of downtown Antioch. Various events sponsored by CAN include: the Kite Fly, Halloween Howl, Fourth of July concessions, Christmas window decorating, Antioch storefront facade program, financed $5,000 toward downtown market study, slide presentation for business recruitment.

ANTIOCH

DUI and resisting arrest

Michael J. Bloom of Antioch, was arrested and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol, driving on a revoked license, and resisting arrest on May 28 at 3 a.m. Officers first noticed Bloom as he was driving around Antioch on a flat tire. Bloom presented the police with a drivers license identifying him as Travis Bloom. When police checked the car's registration, it revealed the car was owned by Michael Bloom. When officers asked if he owned the car, Bloom replied, "Yes." Bloom also told officers three different birthdates. Bloom attempted to flee officers at which time his wallet was located with his drivers license, which was revoked. Bloom refused a breathalyzer test and was subsequently released on bond.

Battery

John G. Wagner, 65, of Antioch was arrested and charged with battery on May 28 after he allegedly struck a victim with a walking stick. The violence began after a verbal argument regarding a dog. Wagner was released on bond with the condition he have no contact with the victim. Later the same day, police had to return to arrest Wagner for violating his bail bond. He was transported to Lake County Jail.

No limit

On May 25, Antioch Police officers observed the 25 mph speed limit sign at Route 173 and McMillan Road was missing. Antioch Public works was notified.

Stolen phone

On May 25, police responded to an Antioch residence who told officers his Nokia, Model 2120 cellular phone was missing. The phone is valued at $900.

Missing car

On May 25, an employee of Lyons-Ryan Ford told police that sometime between May 17 and May 25 a 1994 Taurus GL automobile was missing from the south parking area of the business. The value of the car was $19,075. The car was subsequently found on the premises.

Bike found

A pink and gray Huffy bicycle was found on May 25 in Williams Park. Police attempted to contact the owner with no result.

Award

plans. After graduation, June 24, Waidzulis will attend the College of Lake County in the Transition Program.

"Mr. Briscoe, the principal, said he was not being generous in awarding Bobby with the honor," said Elaine Waidzulis, Bobby's mother. "He said Bobby made a big impression on everyone he met."

Elaine said at first she was shocked by the award. "But, after I thought about it, I wasn't surprised," she said. Elaine believes Bobby's outgoing personality and friendliness helped teach other students that people with disabilities can achieve.

Principals from area schools were asked to select two students from their graduating class who are outstanding and showed leadership skills.

"Bobby just came to mind immediately," said Round Lake High School Principal Jim Briscoe. "He had such an impact on other students and he is an excellent role model." The other winner from Round Lake, Halvorson, was ranked third in her class and displayed leadership qualities, said Briscoe.

Briscoe said he had both students' teachers give the awards this time. Sue Low, Waidzulis' teacher, presented him with the honor. "I was just as surprised as Bob," said Low of the award.

Waidzulis will attend CLC to learn independent living skills. "It takes them out of the routine of going to school," explained Elaine. "They are in an atmosphere with other young adults. It will help them become somewhat more independent than they are now."

Waidzulis worked during the school year for Jewel Osco. He is planning to work for Lyons Ryan Ford during the summer. Ultimately, it is hoped he will find work in a hospital or nursing home situation.

Students receive awards and scholarships

Jason Mondello, of Lindenhurst is the winner of the Bausch and Lomb Science Award. Mondello, a junior at Antioch Community High School is now eligible to apply to become a University of Rochester Bausch and Lomb Scholar. This designation carries with it scholarship funds in excess of $20,000.

Eleven seniors at Antioch Community High School have been awarded Rotary Club Scholarships. Alyssa Bartelson, James Doolittle, Amanda Foster, Lindsay Hladnik, Justin Jenison, Tricia Keefe, Christopher J. Kucera, Leah Ludden, Sheena McFarlane, Jon Schultz II, and Justin Scopel will all be honored at a Rotary Club luncheon on June 1.

Scott Barton has been awarded the Bill Brook Memorial Scholarship, while four students will receive continuing education scholarships from the Rotary. Elizabeth Goodman, John Hartin, Brian McGuire, Maxine Olson all received scholarships for the 1995-1996 school year to continue their educations.

Lake Villa AARP Chapter to meet June 8

The next meeting of the Lake Villa Twp. Chapter 3978 of the AARP will be on June 8 at 1 p.m. at the Lindenhurst Civic Center, 949 Old Elm Rd. Lindenhurst. Fifty-two members and guests enjoyed lunch at the Country Squire for their installation of officers on May 11. Awards were presented to several members for their volunteer work and recognition for their work with the chapter. This being the 10th anniversary of the chapter, charter members were introduced. For further information call 356-7514.

Grass Lake School says thanks for the great support

Well, folks, the Grass Lake School Country Hoe-Down was a huge success. The day turned out sunny and warm and the people came out in great numbers. It had all the makings of a true hoe-down, with its toe-tappin' music, gooey s'mores, pony rides and resident sheriff—thank you Mr. Beveridge for a job well done. You tended those prisons in your jail like a true professional—have much experienced in this field?

The committee would like to publicly thank all the volunteers, sponsors and people who donated raffle items, food, services, equipment, time, effort, sweat and tears. Thanks to everyone who attended this worthwhile function, and especially the senior citizens of Antioch who not only attended but had a grand time in participating in the line dancing. Without all of you it would have never been so profitable, and that's what it's all about.

Some other items worth noting: The winner of the watermelon seed-spitting contest was John Lass, and Samantha Zerfass won the $100 savings bond.

The committee appreciates all the hard work and effort put forth by so many of the volunteers and, especially, the donations. They would like to thank all the following for their contributions, active roles and major support in bringing this hoe-down up to such quality standards: PIP Printing, Marty Schwind, Mutiny Marina, UNOCAL All-In-One, Port of Blarney, Nancy Spring Marina, Ben Franklin, Antioch Bowl, Floral Acres, Jewel/Osco, Antioch Pizza, Mr. T's-Tom Suforma, Hair Design Unlimited, Waste Management North, Inland Harbor, Joal's Resort, Shear Connect, Inc., Lake Steel Corp., Unlimited Equipment Corp., Antioch Dairy Queen, First National Bank of Antioch, Bank of Waukegan, Hidden Lake Stables and Denim and Lace for music and entertainment.

A special thank you goes out to Pat Day and Dave Jones for all their hard work. The PTO is truly indebted to Wayne Cramer in his outstanding effort and support of the PTO and for getting in back up and running. So to everyone who made the hoe-down what it was thank you for your much appreciated efforts, we hope to see you at next year's!

Big thank you

This should be the last Camp Crayon tidbit for the summer, but it's about a great gesture that needs to be acknowledged. Any of you who have little campers at Camp Crayon know it is held in the Scout House. Well, thanks to Peter Garofalo of Galaxy Signs, Camp Crayon now has its own individuality.

Mr. Garofalo designed a "Camp Crayon" sign to hang along with the current Scout House sign in front of the building. He also made a brightly colored crayon-shaped picture that is hanging above the fireplace in the camp room. The sign is an important addition to the program and is greatly appreciated. I know you think of it as just a sign, but it goes way deeper than that. Think of how many scrapbooks will contain a picture of that sign with the graduates of Camp Crayon standing by it wearing their little caps and gowns.

Thirty years down the road, if mom forgets to write who it is and where the picture was taken, the sign will be a great clue.

So, thank you, Mr. Garofalo, from all the teachers and especially the students for giving the camp its own identity.

Here comes the bride

I know I kind of went off a bit on Karen Schmehl's wedding shower (remember the "useful" garden hose gift), so I decided to cut the family some slack and report only the facts, as they were given to me, about their wedding.

So, here are the facts. Bride and groom: Karen Lynn Schmehl (the retired Lizard's daughter) and Michael Okolita. Date: Saturday, May 6; Mass at St. Peter's, officiated by Fr. Costello. Ring bearer: Brian Guask. Reception: Maravella's. Menu: chicken, pasta and—stop the presses!

I can't do this. Sorry, Miss Liz. I tried very hard to be kind, but the townsfolk want to hear the real scoop behind the wedding, not what was on everyone's dinner plate. Okay, so here's the real dirt:

The resident Photo Joe (Miss Marie), or GI Joe as she mistakenly refers to herself, broke her video camera the night before she was supposed to film the wedding. She ran up to Walgreen's to buy a disposable video camera, only to learn that they only make disposable 35-mm cameras. She had a slight panic attack and then started making frantic phone calls to everyone she knew who might possess a replacement. With a substitute She finally gets all rearranged and the music begins. Guest soloist (me) starts singing an Ave Maria as the mom's are being walked in and—OOPS—here comes the bridesmaids. They are supposed to wait until "Ave" is over before walking down the aisle—weren't they at the rehearsal?

So the organist sees what has happened and gives me the "cut" signal. I stop singing after the first verse, and she quickly changes chords and starts playing the Wedding March. As the bride approaches, everyone stands except for the mother of the bride. Either she was too caught up in the moment or she was just plain confused, but for whatever reason it wasn't until the bride and her dad reached the altar that the mother of the bride stood up.

Now this woman went to Catholic school—she should know what protocol dictates here! Unfortunately I had to leave at that very moment, so I was unable to partake in the remainder of the ceremony. But I'm happy to say the mother of the bride later reported all went just fine—like she had a clue as to how this was all supposed to work!

Now isn't that a better story than just the plain, basic facts?

To salvage what is left of our shaky friendship, I had better add that three-year-old Alyssa Janelle Filips (the Lizard's much-written-about granddaughter) was the flower girl.

Now that is how a true wedding announcement should read. Sorry, Miss Liz, I tried to type just the facts, but my fingers couldn't stand the monotony. I do hope Karen and Michael had a great Caribbean cruise, and I will do my best to leave any future conversation off the record—honest!

June birthdays

It's birthday time again, so here is the monthly list of all the June birthdays that I have. Now, everyone join in a chorus of "Happy Birthday" to those June babies: Rich Cheterbok, Alex Dunfrund, Laura Falcone, Nicky Garofalo, Heidi Gwinn, Janet Harrison, Erica Hurt, John Kasprzak, Korin Knutson, Michelle Lichter, Jamie McHugh, Kaitlyn Mesnard, Ryan Morris, Darlene Olenick, Marlene Olsen Sr., Christopher Schaller, Erin Shanahan and Justin Ward.

And so goes another "Jingle from Pringle." Don't forget to call 395-6364.

Dairy market would thrive without controls

NEAL TUCKER
Staff Reporter

Anyone who has seen the advertisements knows milk does your body good. But without the Food Security Act, milk may not do you wallet good.

Dairy farmers are not excluded from a group that includes grain farmers, those who produce commodities such as tobacco and honey. Through the Food Security Act, government subsidies are designed to keep food prices down. With the increasing costs in operating a farm, the net effect of the subsidies also keeps a farmer's profit margin down.

Golden Oaks Farm, a large dairy operation in Lake County with sites in Wauconda and Antioch, operates 1,200 acres of farmland and 550 head of cattle. Roughly 180 of those are kept for milking. Owned by Judge John Crown of Chicago, the operation is a viable one but does feel the pressures of today's farm industry climate.

"It is a farm because the Crown family wants it to be a farm," said dairy farm manager Gary Janssen.

The farm is continually looking for safe and inexpensive ways to boost production and increase profit margins despite the outside pressures of suburban growth, government intervention, and natural obstacles. The result is a cycle that mostly feeds itself.

Part three in a five-part series

Manure from the cattle is spread on the fields as fertilizer to boost yield. The corn and silage are stored and mixed with hay to create haylage, a high protein feed for the dairy cows. After the wheat grain is sold, all the straw is baled and used for bedding.

Milk from the dairy cows is used by bucket to feed the calves, who are weaned from the mothers after a few weeks and kept in tiny huts similar to dog houses.

The heifers (female cows who have not given birth) are grown and impregnated at 15 months old so they can begin milk production. The bulls are raised and sold to other farms or to the market for beef.

Dairy cows are kept as comfortable as possible on rubberized mats. They listen to country music all day, have ready meals and receive excellent healthcare. Anything that affects a cow's comfort negatively also affects milk production in the same manner.

County makes changes to precincts

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Voters beware—and watch the mail.

In accordance with state law, a Lake County Board committee made its recommendations to consolidate, add or alter several voting precincts in Lake County. The changes are being made in preparation for the 1996 federal elections.

After reviewing voting turnout county-wide and population shifts for the past six years, the Lake County Clerk's Office made its precinct boundary recommendations to the Management Services, Taxation and Election Committee. Several of the polling places were eliminated, and some precinct committee positions were dropped or added.

"The whole goal is to make this easier and more accurate for the voter," said Lake County Clerk Willard Helander.

Using 1,000 voters as the general rule of thumb, Helander said precincts were made larger, condensed or added to better reflect the population in precincts. Helander said precincts with more than 1,000 voters are more difficult to manage during elections, and the smaller precincts are not as efficient with small voter turnouts.

"These recommendations create the most

Cardinal Bernardin dedicates Carmel 2000 success

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

Five years ago, with the nation teetering on recession, a group of Carmel High School supporters, gathered for a discussion on how to raise money to fill school needs.

They received reports on mounting pressure for enhancing faculty financial support, a scholarship program that was woefully underfunded, a dingy lockerroom, wrestlers sharing space with the cafeteria and a weight program conducted out of a closet.

Describing the problems facing Lake County's Catholic high school, Lauren Drew of Libertyville also supplied a crisp answer:

"We have to raise some money, lots of money," she declared.

Besides supplying the revision for a fund raising project, Drew also began marshaling forces to fill the school's needs. One of her first responses was to introduce Charles "Chuck" Bartels of Countryside, Mundelein, as co-chair of a campaign to raise $3 million, a daunting task considering that the nation's and the county's financial health was

Robbery suspect caught

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Round Lake Beach Police have arrested a Crystal Lake man in connection with the May 18 robbery of the Consumers

Cooperative Credit Union in Round Lake Beach. Round Lake Beach detectives collected information and have a photographic match linking Frank E. Reed to the robbery. Reed was in federal custody for a May 12 robbery attempt in Huntley. He is currently in a federal facility in Rockford.

Road safety check a success

ROUND LAKE BEACH—Round Lake Beach Police and the Illinois State Police netted many arrests in a roadside safety check last weekend. Round Lake Beach officers had 43 arrests including one for zero tolerance. The other offenses were minor traffic violations such as driving with a suspended license and no proof of insurance. State police had two driving under the influence arrests and one unlawful use of a weapon charge.

Dam 'madder than hell'

INGLESIDE—One area notable is fed up with trash in unincorporated areas of Lake County. "I'm madder than hell," announced Dr. William Dam. Dr. Dam, former mayor of Fox Lake, and current Fox Waterway Agency chairman said he's simply fed up with garbage which rears its ugly head much of the spring and summer at a business he owns on Pistakee Lake. He explained the County should be taking the waste, if homeowners refuse to contract for collection. Dam said he intends on attending County board meetings to express his concerns with the problem. If that doesn't work, he'll consider filing a class action lawsuit with the Lake County Building and Zoning Department to help protect the homeowners, he said. Other business owners have had similar problems.

Power outage closes school

ANTIOCH—A power outage which affected more than 11,000 in Northern Illinois, gave seniors at Antioch Community High School a long weekend to study for final exams. Other students received a jump on the long weekend when the school was closed late Friday morning. According to Commonwealth Edison officials, the power went out at 8:25 a.m. when a transformer failed. While power was restored to many quickly, roughly 4,600 households were without electricity for up to four hours.

Warren Twp. ponders addition

GURNEE—Warren Township Supervisor Robert Depke is examining the possibility of giving the seniors more room via an addition to the center at Warren Township Center off Washington Street. If approved by township trustees at the June 13 meeting, the matter could be on the Nov. 7 ballot. Cost estimates are between $1.50 and $3 monthly. The increase, under one proposal, would be a penny per $100,000 of assessed valuation and generate $879,000.

New ACT Center opens

VERNON HILLS—The first ACT Center opened in RiverTree Court in Vernon Hills. As a new, innovated service, ACT officials said they expect to open similar facilities across the country. The Vernon Hills site is its first center. The ACT Center aims to offer consulting services for children, young adults and adults as they make transitions from different levels of education, choose a college, make career changes and make financial decisions after retirement.

Village gears up for festivities

LIBERTYVILLE—MainStreet Libertyville, Inc., gears up for the opening of the annual Farmers Market, Out To Lunch, Rose Garden Concerts, Sidewalk Sales and the Third Annual Street Dance, bringing residents, commuters and tourists into the village. Festivities begin in the middle of June and will continue through September.

LaVista holds special meeting

GRAYSLAKE—College of Lake County President Daniel LaVista held a special faculty meeting at noon, Wednesday to discuss a transition in leadership at the community college. Details of the meeting were unavailable at press time. The school is currently between semesters.

Library gets big grant

GRAYSLAKE—The Grayslake Area Public Library can finally break ground on a new facility near Central Park after learning it has been awarded a $250,000 state grant. The Library had to wait to see if they received the Live and Learn grant before turning the soil because the money is earmarked for use toward construction costs. Ground breaking had also been delayed since voters approved the $4.1 million project in spring of 1994 because of a dispute over where the new facility should be located.

Fuel spill taints water

GRAYSLAKE—Skokie Valley Asphalt in Grayslake may face punitive Illinois Environmental Protection Agency action after a leaking underground fuel tank was discovered on company property. The leaking tank contaminated the Avon Fremont drainage ditch, which flows into Third Lake. Skokie Valley officials confirmed there was an unregistered tank on the Lake St. property that has since been removed and level indicators inside the tank showed it was probably leaking. The asphalt company faces fines and reimbursement of cleanup costs for the fuel spill.

All Star to play 'down under'

LAKE ZURICH—A football standout on Lake Zurich High School's squad will have a chance to showcase his skills "down under" as a member of an All Star High School team traveling throughout Australia, New Zealand and the Cook Islands this summer. Michael Schauder, 18, a fullback, will be the only player from Lake County on the team, and is halfway towards raising enough money to subsidize his trip. Schauder will act as an ambassador, promoting football to a thriving group of fans.

School merger plan must truly be super

Representatives of neighboring north central Lake County school districts discussing mutual space problems brought up an old idea—the creation of a “super” district by combining Grayslake and Antioch high schools.

The merger would pave the way for construction of a third secondary school campus that would solve the long festering problem of Lindenhurst and Lake Villa not having a high school. Both communities are split between the two high schools.

The “super” district plan first surfaced 25 years ago in a study by the then County Supt. of Schools William Thompson. The idea should have appeal to citizens of Lindenhurst and Lake Villa who long have sought their own high school. And the innovative plan might even find interest among citizens in Antioch and Grayslake, especially if the merger would result in better educational facilities and a tax bill for voters that truly would be “super” low.

Can private sector supplant Kiley?

Gov. Edgar’s “slow death” decision on the planned closure of the Ann M. Kiley Development Center affords an excellent opportunity to see whether the private sector can supplant governmental institutions slated for elimination or downsizing.

Pressured by local politicians and puzzled parents, Edgar has decided to shutter the highly regarded Waukegan mental health facility in five years rather than two. Families of the severely retarded adult residents of Kiley Center received the news of the governor’s reprieve with mixed emotions, feeling good that they’ll have additional time to make arrangements for loved ones yet still perplexed over how and why the governor found the notable center to be extra baggage in the state’s mental health care scheme.

State figures showed that per patient cost at Kiley is about $75,000 per year. Private agencies are believed to provide the same care in group settings for an estimated $43,000 per year. So now is the time for those private providers to step forward. There are more than 400 retarded persons who will be looking for new homes.

The additional 36 months of life for Kiley also will afford an excellent opportunity to see whether the closure was based on merit or amounted to a crass political decision to relocate state resources from a high employment, economically sound county to an area of the Illinois where a replacement facility will provide economic stimulation—and votes.

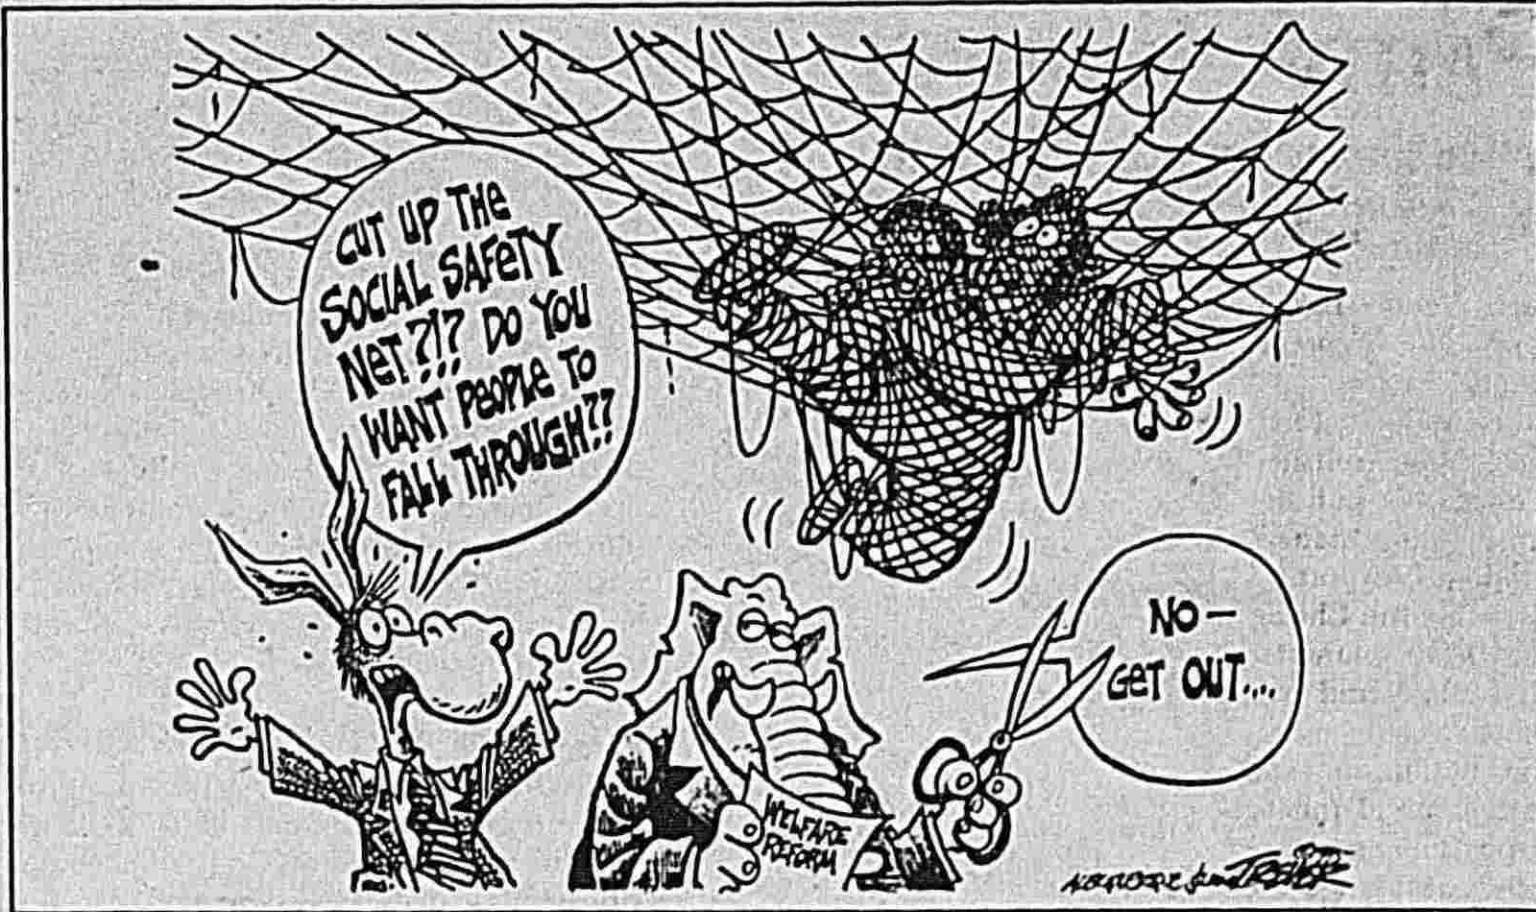

Term limitations won’t be curbed

If as the Supreme Court ruled that a constitutional amendment is required to restrict the length of time members of Congress can serve, then that’s what will be necessary. The term limits movement is too strong and too important to be sidetracked by a suddenly constructionist high court.

The 5-4 decision invalidates congressional term limits in 23 states. Term limits fervor has not yet caught on in Illinois, although some candidates have made limiting service an issue in the past two General Assembly campaigns. The Supreme Court decision does not affect individual state limitations on service.

Supporters of Congressional term limitation now can be expected to turn to enacting a Constitutional amendment. With 80 percent of the electorate favoring term limitation, the movement will not die because of the Supreme Court ruling. There is reason to believe that the movement might even pick up speed, especially when voters have a chance to see how term limits works at the state level.

Until a Constitutional amendment is passed, voters should purposefully make term limits a campaign issue for Senate and House seats. Opponents mockingly say that term limits already exists “in the ballot box.” How true they are if voters only are willing to test the courage of their convictions.

—Viewpoint— 95er’s now face pay-back time

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

The Class of '95, situated smack in the middle of the last decade of the century, is lodged squarely in the middle of a number of questions of the day.

The Right and Left are tugging mightily over the 95er’s—pro-choice, pro-life; less intrusive government vs. federal “responsibility”; balance the budget or increase the deficit; legalize drugs or get tougher on substance abuse; sexual freedom over self control.

The 95er’s, especially high school graduates, probably haven’t realized yet what a prime “target” they are for the conflicting forces in our nation seeking fresh hearts and minds. But they soon will. That’s when things get a lot tougher. As the sages have stated, it’s not easy growing up today.

A lot has been invested in the 95er’s and their successors. Pay-back time is about to begin, as commencement orators are sure to emphasize. Graduation speakers also can be relied upon to dwell on the twin concepts of challenge and responsibility being thrust upon the new grads. Corny stuff, to be sure. But true. Yes, grads. Pay attention to that talk about paying back. Welcome to the world of taxpayers.

—LETTERS TO THE EDITOR—

Tax lobbyists double

Editor:

Our greatest problem today is the deficit. We need new tax revenues that would be taxpayer neutral. Here is the most logical solution.

Our government is being held hostage by lobbying forces with unlimited funds to lobby for laws that protect the special interests and against the best interests of the country. We need election reform. What we should do is tax the lobbyists at both ends of their money flow. Tax their incoming funds first and then tax them again on each and every contribution they make to any candidate or party.

I would include the NRA, the AARP, the AMA and all of the evangelists like Pat Robertson and any other group or organization that has an income of over $10,000.

Our tax revenues would triple if they paid those taxes, but more likely they would stop the contributions. That would guarantee that we could have free elections for the first time since colonial days. End result—even if I could run for office. Congressmen and senators would vote their consciences rather than for their sponsors. Once more we would have a true democratic government.

Anti-Clintonites divide nation

Editor:

President Clinton apparently had struck a nerve when he criticized (ever so gently), the radio-talk hate mongers.

It’s a good thing he has broad shoulders: for someone who has been in office for only three years, he gets a tremendous amount of rabid invective for being who he is. And who is he? He is a man of superior intelligence, excellent education and keen political sense. His heart is in the right place. He is human, to be sure, but never vicious.

If we, the voters, don’t give our loyalty to our elected president, it is we who are guilty of creating national division.

Public views ridiculed

Editor:

I attended a ceremony at the Lake Villa Intermediate School to change its name to the Peter J. Palumbi School. Dr. Palumbi was honored and made his thanks. He advised the audience to remember that the children are the most important part of the school; they are the leaders of tomorrow. I was shocked that during the ceremony school board member Tom Yingling, speaking on behalf of the school board, publicly ridiculed the concerns that had previously been brought to the board’s attention over the name change.

One of my complaints was that the school board had discussed the name change over several months but did not make the fact known to students, teachers or parents. I called the school board to advise of some children’s concerns over the name change. The concerns ranged from what would the new initials for the school be, to anger over losing their identity with LVI, to feeling like their opinion didn’t count, and to the new jackets that were delivered the week before. The school sold jackets with the LVI logo on it. If the students had been told about the possible name change, they may not have bought the jackets this year and waited. Some children felt cheated; they had saved for a LVI jacket and next year it won’t be LVI.

Toilet seat cover deal spurs charging Churchill

Party Lines, Lakeland Newspapers column of political commentary, is prepared from staff reports.

House Majority Leader Bob Churchill (R-Lake Villa) relishes his role as the Republican pit bull in the GOP drive to engineer state management of O'Hare International Airport.

Tweaking the Chicago Demos or riling Mayor Daley guarantees Churchill page one coverage and exposure on the 10 o'clock news.

The now famous exposure of the sweetheart deal of $11 million over three years for airport toilet seat covers is exactly what Churchill is looking for to embarrass Daley and build a case for state airport control.

Watchers on duty—Hints at revival of an old plan to create a northwest Lake County "super sanitary" district have raised the eyebrows of citizens' watchdog groups.

On the surface, the plan is the classic local vs. county control. Underneath, though, is control of the $25 million treatment works at Fox Lake and multi-million-dollar contracts for sewer extensions that will open up the area for further development.

Pro-growthers in the county building are trying to figure out a way to get sewers to the Rte. 12 corridor in the Volo area. Key is control of the Lakes Region Sanitary Dist. now stacked with appointees by County Chairman Bob Depke.

Gathering—Funeral services preceding the long Memorial Day weekend for former Mayor Chuck Brown of Libertyville provided a bittersweet opportunity for friends and community leaders to renew acquaintances. His service in public office spanned 28 years.

Death at 81 resulted from complications of a long-standing heart ailment.

Road backer—Chalk up another supporter for an expanded highway system. Cardinal Joseph Bernardin, officiating at a ceremony at Carmel High School, explained that he was late because of becoming ensnared in northbound Tollway traffic. "And I even left Chicago extra early," the cleric explained.

Course is set—Politicians are shifting their operations outdoors now that the golfing season is in full sway.

The Lake County GOP Central Committee Open is set for Monday, July 10, at Mundelein's Countryside Golf Course. One hundred dollars for lunch, dinner and golf with a cart. Wednesday, July 19, Lake Villa Twp. and Republican faithful and their friends will tee off at Antioch Country Club. Golf and dinner, $55. This will be a Bud Scott production.

Comish not modest—The outspoken and sometimes controversial IFA appraiser, Ken Rozhon isn't too shy to toot his own horn. He made the announcement he has been reappointed for a third term as Liquor Commissioner of Island Lake. He must have known he had it in the bag. For sometime, Rozhon has been cruising the streets with "Comish" tagging his license plates. Rozhon presently holds a seat on the McHenry County Planning Commission, and is a resident of Fox River Shores.

Maneuvering—

Interesting how the local pols jockeyed for position to take credit for Gov. Edgar's decision to extend the life of Waukegan's Kiley Center for adult retarded. Even freshman legislator Tom Lachner (R-Lake Bluff) lined up to accept plaudits.

Backtrack—Kildeer Trustee Terry Albert has resigned after selling his home. Albert had staunchly maintained during the last several months that he was only remodeling his house and was not selling it, even though he had lived in a neighboring town for months. One month after complaining to this newspaper about other's accusations that he was indeed attempting to sell his home, he admitted to the full board he had finally sold it, and was no longer a resident, something he had ferociously denied. Kudos for Albert for coming clean, admitting his false truths and stepping off the board. Now maybe the village will be able to get down to business instead of trying to attack each other.

My goal was to remind the board that even though these children are only in the Intermediate School for three years, the lessons they learned in this school will follow for life. If you treat them like their opinion counts and that they can make a difference, watch them go out and accomplish amazing things. If you teach them they don't matter, you teach them rebellion and low self-esteem.

The board taught them that they didn't count. Tom Yingling went so far as to make a joke out of the jacket concern. He must have forgot that the band and choir were students. He must have forgot that the audience had children who were trying to accept the changes, and adults decided without any input from the community, teachers, students or parents. These children will take these lessons and apply it in their life in later years. We learn what we live, and live what we learn. My son asked me to talk to the school board because he knew they wouldn't take him seriously. The board has proved him right. They taught him and other families that their concerns are open to public ridicule by the people who are elected to hear those complaints and concerns. Maybe Tom Yingling can teach a new life lesson. Mr. Yingling owes these kids a personal and public apology.

Husband arrested in murder for hire

NEAL TUCKER

Staff Reporter

After Grayslake resident Angela Litvak was attacked in her Haryan Farms home in Grayslake April 12, Grayslake Police Chief Dennis Koletsos predicted there would be a 'real twist' to the case.

Those words have proven prophetic as police arrested Litvak's husband in a strange murder-for-hire plot hatched over a car repair. Yachiel "Illa" Abramov, 34, is charged with felony counts of solicitation for murder, attempted first degree murder, home invasion, armed violence and aggravated battery with a firearm.

Two 18-year-old Evanston men, Leroy Solti and Lamar Jones, have been charged with carrying out the plot and sit in Lake County Jail, each held on $1 million bond. Solti and Jones were first recruited when Solti brought his car for repair to Bee Zee Auto Body in Evanston, where Abramov is employed as an assistant manager.

"Solti was unable to pay the bill so they worked out a plot to kill Abramov's wife," Koletsos alleged. The bill for the repair was for $2,500.

After several meetings with Solti and Jones, including a trip to the Haryan Farms neighborhood so they could preview the scene of the crime, Abramov allegedly offered the teens another $2,500 as well as $2,000 after the crime was carried out.

Koletsos confirmed the investigation into Abramov's possible involvement began at 5 p.m. the day of the attack after Grayslake detectives first interviewed him. He said the arrest came much later because police must be very thorough in cases such as this when most of the details are generally one person's word against another.

"These charges are very hard to prosecute. It takes a lot of physical evidence," Koletsos said.

When he claimed he did not know Solti or Jones, suspicion of Abramov increased after a fellow worker at the station told police he had them talking to Abramov sometime before the attack. He then admitted to knowing them but refused to answer any other questions.

Abramov's wife was attacked the morning of April 12 after Solti and Jones allegedly broke into the rear sliding glass door with rock. Roughly a half hour earlier they had been to the front door asking her if they could use the phone because they were interested in real estate in the upscale neighborhood.

After breaking in, they rushed upstairs and yanked the phone cord from the wall as Litvak made a desperate 911 call to the Grayslake police department. Because Grayslake has an enhanced 911 system, Litvak's address immediately flashed on the screen as the call connected. A patrol car less than a half mile from the scene sounded its siren, forcing the offenders to flee the scene before doing a thorough job. They were apprehended within minutes.

Since Abramov's arrest, Jones has pled guilty to conspiracy to murder and attempted first degree murder and will testify against Abramov.

Lake County State Attorney's prosecutors contend the idea of killing his wife is not a new one to Abramov. They say he has tried on two other occasions to solicit for her murder and even have a taped statement from at least one individual who claims to have been approached.

Abramov is being held in Lake County Jail on $1 million bond. Apparently, he continued to live with his wife and their 2-year-old son after the attack until he was arrested at his workplace. Litvak, who recovered from stabbing and gunshot wounds to the neck, is living with her mother in Buffalo Grove.

According to Dan Camasta of Century 21 Hoelz & Associates in Grayslake, the couple purchased their house on Killarney Ct. in Grayslake at a price exceeding $220,000 about two months before Litvak, a Ukrainian, was attacked. Before that time they had been living in an apartment on Chicago's far north side.

Abramov is from Russia and has lived in the Chicago area for seven years, working the entire time at Bee Zee Auto Body. Each of the charges against him come with mandatory prison time.

Market

To boost milk production as much as 15 percent, Golden Oaks Farms also uses a synthetic bovine growth hormone (BGH). Janssen is completely comfortable with BGH use because the consistency of the milk is unadulterated.

Thom Wilborn, director of communication for the National Milk Producers Federation in Arlington, Va., believes the strong farms like Golden Oaks Farms will survive in the industry because the demand for products has not diminished. That is why his organization endorses eliminating dairy subsidies and subsequent price controls altogether.

The Food Security Act's legacy is actually rooted in a different era of the American economy, going back to World War II. Food was scarce and the government wanted to assure there was an abundant supply. Today, dairy farmers as a whole pay for their own subsidy by paying an assessment to the federal government for every 100 pounds of milk they produce. That money is turned around and spread among all dairy farmers in the form of a subsidy.

Wilborn says the special nature of the dairy subsidy only acts to raise production cost and make American dairies less competitive in the world market for dry nonfat milk and butter exports.

"It (eliminating subsidies) will help the dairy farmer who is efficient."

The farmers who are the most efficient are going to be the ones who stay in business," Wilborn said, suggesting that many influential people in the beltway are estimating the government will actually make money on the dairy industry this year.

Of course, that sounds terrific but most consumers are not concerned about the plight of the dairy farmer any further than how it affects the price of a gallon of milk. Wilson said the price of dry milk and butter would actually decline because of the world demand. Milk consumers should not be bothered either.

"You'll probably see very little impact to the consumer on the price of a gallon of milk," Wilborn said.

After that, the market forces of capitalism would be able to take over just like they do in nearly every industry. Wilborn said if there is money to be made in sugar, then plenty of farmers will produce sugar. The same goes for dairy.

The market demand for dairy products will allow the supply to steer itself and subsequently the price will be controlled by the consumer. With the proposed cuts in the farm bill over the next several years, this theory may turn into reality.

Milking time comes twice per day at Golden Oaks Farms in Wauconda. Seferino Franco does the sanitizing before attaching equipment at the 4 p.m. milking. For every 100 pounds of milk produced, the dairy pays an assessment to the government to be redistributed as a subsidy.—Photo by Todd F. Helser correct and accurate boundaries that are representative of the population. They should also make the precincts more efficient," Helander said.

Some of the most notable changes include:

- In Antioch Township, parts of precinct 14 were combined with precinct 15. More than 200 voters in precinct 14 have been shifted to precinct 15.
- In Avon Township, portions of precinct 29, north of Washington St., were moved to precinct 30. Hainesville voters in precinct 31 were moved to precinct 35, and parts of precinct 37 were moved to 38.
- In Cuba Township, precincts 56 and 57 were combined into a single precinct. A minor boundary shift was made to precinct 58. Precinct 60 was eliminated and added to 61.
- In Elia Township, voters in Forest Lake precinct 107 were moved into one precinct (105).
- In Grant Township, portions of precincts 137,

140 and 142 were carved out to make a new precinct. Precinct 147 was eliminated and combined with precincts 141 and 148.

• In Lake Villa Township, Round Lake Beach voters will have their own precinct as parts of precincts 156, 157 and 165 were gerrymandered to create a separate precinct.

• In Libertyville Township, approximately 188 voters in precinct 179 will be moved to 172.

• In Warren Township, a new precinct was created out of precincts 261 and 262.

• In Wauconda Township, precinct 291 was abolished and combined with 294.

• In Vernon Township, the committee is still seeking growth projections before it decides whether to add another precinct in Buffalo Grove.

The full County Board is expected to vote on the recommendations June 13 after the committee meets again June 6.

Carmel

headed in the wrong direction.

Out of subsequent organizational meetings, the steering committee gave birth to Carmel 2000, a drive to raise money for faculty enrichment, more scholarships and construct a new gymnasium and more classrooms.

On a bright, crisp May morning, before a packed audience of students and parents, Drew and Bartels reported symbolically to Joseph Cardinal Bernardin officiating at a dedication of new facilities that the campaign was a success.

Cardinal Bernardin paid special recognition to major contributors, the late Janet Hesse and her late son Paul Hesse, for whom the imposing brick edifice will be known; the Baker family for an impressive foyer that showcases athletic awards, and Patrick A. Salvi, an alumnus whose gift provided the big step toward completion of the Salvi Arena, a state-of-the-art indoor athletic facility.

All in all, Carmel 2000 reflected the financial support of 600 Carmel families and countless Lake County businesses and industries.

Drew called the new physical plant an opportunity for Carmel friends and families to "give back" to the school that has given children for more than 25 years an outstanding educational and spiritual guidance.

Bartels said Carmel 2000 was an "amazing outpouring of resources," an expression of recognizing and preserving values held by Carmel families and the community it serves.

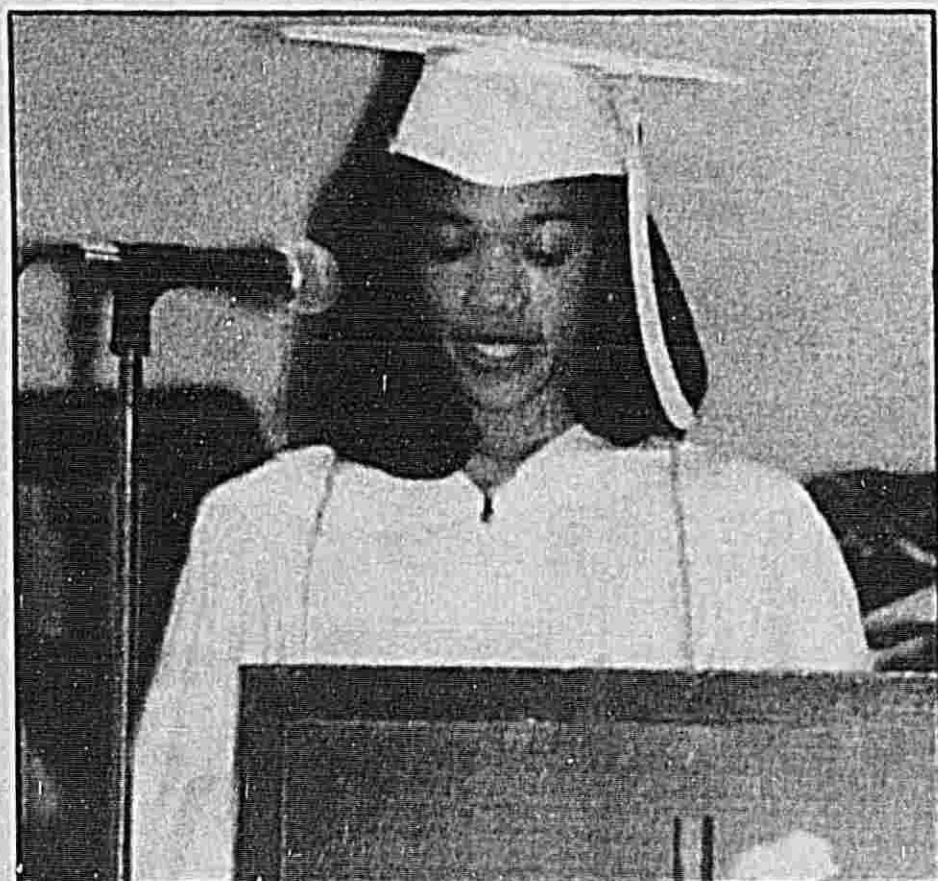

In officially welcoming Cardinal Bernardin, the Rev. William Harry, Carmel president, stated that the capital fund drive was the first in school history. Fr. Harry mentioned that since the Cardinal's last visit in 1987, Carmel has become one school instead of separate boys' and girls' schools, and today reflects a diverse student body of 1,250 students drawn from three counties and three separate Catholic dioceses.

Representing all Carmel alumni, Salvi, a member of the Class of 1971, said Carmel High School is "enormously beneficial" to all of Lake County, producing leaders who promote family values. The highly successful trial lawyer who resides in Lake Forest said his own contribution was a privilege.

"It is a special distinction to be a graduate of Carmel High School," Salvi stated. He said his eight brothers and sisters all are Carmel grads and that he and his wife hope their five sons will be able to attend the school in Mundelein.

Jean Sands, Student Council president, presented Cardinal Bernardin and Bishop Gerald Kicanas with athletic team shirts. When the two clerics opened the colorfully wrapped packages, students erupted into shouts of approval.

Relationship cures for the workaholic

Consider Joe, the workaholic who spends 70 hours a week at the office. Over time, he will become a stranger to his wife and son because he is uninvolved at home. He may become increasingly agitated and tense if he does not make time for leisure activities.

Kim is a new mother. Her life revolves around feeding, changing and rocking. She doesn't have time to think of anything but the baby. He's her job, love and joy. But soon she'll become desperate for adult conversation and the freedom to read an entire magazine article without interruption.

To complicate matters further, Kim and Joe are married. They are both working hard to do their part in the relationship. The thought of cutting back at work worries Joe because of his job expectations and financial needs. When he is off work, he has chores at home—like that stupid lawn. A Cubs game would be nice for a change, but it's a hassle to organize everything.

Kim would love to meet some friends for lunch on a regular basis, but feels guilty and selfish. She fantasizes about a romantic dinner with Joe, but shrugs it off. She thinks they'll be too tired and, besides, who'll watch the baby?

Rather than continue down this path and risk further problems, Kim and Joe should try the following.

• Take a step back and re-examine their lifestyles, asking how they measure up in each category. People need to feel useful and productive. They derive part of their identity by being able to contribute. Being challenged by work stimulates personal growth. Works takes many roles: secretary, student, carpenter, lawyer, homemaker, volunteer, CEO. The unifying factor with work is not a paycheck, although that helps; it's that you are doing something that you think is valuable and which brings you satisfaction.

Hospitals losing ground on Medicaid

The State of Illinois is proposing a new way of not paying its bills. Funding for the state's Medicaid Program, which is historically short of money, will be cut another 20 percent by Governor Edgar's proposed 1996 budget.

The result in northern Lake County is that Victory Memorial Hospital and Saint Therese Medical Center, which even now receive payments that do not cover the cost of providing what are often life-saving services, will be forced to accept even less for these services in 1996. The presidents of these local hospitals are combining forces in their efforts to alert area residents of the potentially devastating impact of the governor's proposed budget on the healthcare services their organizations provide.

"This is a very real and serious issue," says Timothy J. Harrington, president of Victory Memorial Hospital. "Our hospitals are required to provide care to a large number of Medicaid and indigent patients. Yet the state declines to meet its responsibility for their care by paying for it."

Each year the state budget

'This tax is unfair to everyone because it increases the costs that must be passed along to other payers in the form of higher hospital charges.'

—Timothy P. Selz

falls short in funding to meet its Medicaid obligations.

Timothy P. Selz, president of Saint Therese Medical Center, says "Hospitals, which do not have the cushion of large operating margins, cannot continue to incur reimbursement shortfalls and still provide quality healthcare services to our communities."

In 1994, Illinois hospitals received approximately 85 cents for every dollar of cost for healthcare services to Medicaid recipients. The governor's proposed budget will reduce those payments to just 69 cents per dollar.

While a 16-cent difference in payment may not seem like much on its own, multiply that by the cost of services provided and it becomes significant. For example, at Victory Memorial and Saint Therese the cost of providing needed healthcare services to Medicaid and indigent patients in 1994 was over $5 million more than the hospital's received in reimbursement. By 1996, that number is expected to increase significantly.

Not only does the state not pay its medical bills in full, but it also pays them notoriously late. Victory Memorial estimates that by June 30, the Illinois Medicaid Program will owe $5 million in outstanding bills to the hospital. The state's backlog of bills to Saint Therese Medical Center was an estimated $3.7 million in arrears as of Feb. 28, 1995. Both facilities realize that they will never receive full payment of these outstanding bills.

In addition to cuts in Medicaid funding, Edgar's 1996 budget proposes a continuation of the state's hospital tax.

"Taxing hospitals to pay for healthcare is like taxing teachers to pay for education," says Harrington. "The hospital tax is a 'sick tax' placed on a narrow segment of our society—sick patients and those who pay for their care—to support a broad societal responsibility. Funding Medicaid is the legal and moral responsibility of government, not hospitals."

This tax, which was instituted as a temporary provider tax in 1992, places a tax burden on hospitals to help pay the Medicaid bills the state owes them. Victory Memorial's sick tax bill was over $1.5 million last year, while Saint Therese paid $1.8 million.

Senior care choices take time

Few people spend time thinking about nursing homes before they need one. But a little thought beforehand can make all the difference in the world when nursing home placement becomes a necessity.

"Ninety-nine percent of the time, it's a crisis situation that brings people here," Judy Gentry, admissions and discharge director at Victory Lakes Continuing Care Center in Lindenhurst, said. "The doctor has told the family that the loved one can't go home directly from the hospital and now all of a sudden they have only a few days to find a nursing home. The decision is rushed and emotional. Instead of looking for the right place, they are just looking for an open bed."

Because insurance companies and Medicare urge physicians to shorten hospital stays, some patients now leave the hospital still needing time to fully recover from their illness. Nursing homes have stepped in to fill the void by providing a continuation of care.

"Many years ago, a lot of nursing homes were a place where people went to die, but it's not like that any more," Gentry said. "We have many patients who are released from the hospital to stay for a week or more and then go home. They need continued therapy and monitoring before they can safely return home. We provide those services in a friendly, family-oriented atmosphere."

Gentry advises people to think about three or four different plans for when someone is released from the hospital. These plans should include a nursing home, a live-in situation, a home health referral and going back home independently.

Once it is determined that someone will go to a nursing home and a selection is made, Gentry recommends that the family visit the nursing home.

At Victory Lakes, the staff helps ease the first few days by welcoming the patient, decorating the room and helping them become familiar with the surroundings. Gentry also suggests that families bring in some personal items, like pictures or a favorite afghan, that the patient can identify with.

"We try to get residents involved as much as they can with meals and activities," Gentry said. "Even if a resident will only be here a short time, we want them to know that Victory Lakes is its own little community and they can feel at ease here."

Victory Lakes offers free tours seven days a week. Call 360-5900 to make an appointment.

• Love. People need to feel connected, understood and cared for. People are complex and typically thrive best with a variety of relationships. No one person can completely satisfy all your needs. Also, it is important to have some relationships that are reciprocal.

• Play. Play is having fun. Play is pleasure. Examples might include gardening, playing canasta, watching funny movies with friends, horseback riding or traveling. Adults find this category particularly difficult because leisure activities often include hidden agendas. Kids explore, take risks, act silly, giggle and then nap. We can learn from this approach.

Work, love and play—we need all three equally. Any one of these areas without the other two creates imbalance.

• Recognize that they each must take responsibility for prioritizing balance into their lives.

• Restructure their schedules to reflect these needs.

• Support each other's efforts knowing that it will result in greater fulfillment.

• Get a baby-sitter.

Headache support group to meet

Highland Park Hospital and the National Headache Foundation, Chicago, have formed a support group for headache sufferers which meets the second Thursday of every month at the hospital. The next meeting is June 8 and will be held from 7 to 8:30 p.m. in Meeting Room 3A. The hospital is located at 718 Glenview Ave. in Highland Park.

It is estimated that 45 million Americans suffer from chronic headache pain, and that industry loses $50 billion per year due to absenteeism and medical expenses caused by headache, according to the National Headache Foundation (NHF).

In addition, over $4 billion per year are spent on over-the-counter pain relievers for headache, and most of these pain relievers are ineffective, according to the NHF.

"There are so many things that trigger headaches which are not under our control, such as hormonal changes or hereditary predisposition, that support groups are necessary to spread the word about the ways in which we can control headaches," said Ellen Blau, support group coordinator for the NHF and a headache sufferer.

Support group meetings are free and open to the public, and friends and family of headache sufferers are encouraged to attend. Registration is necessary. To register, or for more information, call 1-800-372-7742.

Screenings offered at Kids' Care Fair

Good Shepherd Hospital will present a Kids' Care Fair, featuring specially priced immunizations and lead screenings from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. June 24 on the hospital campus.

The fair will be held in the farm buildings on the east side of the Good Shepherd site. Free Kids' Care Fair T-shirts will be distributed to the first 100 children who come to the event.

The charge will be $5 per immunization. Attendees need to bring their children's current immunization records. Payment by cash or checks will be accepted, along with Illinois Public Aid cards.

Good Shepherd's laboratory will also offer lead screenings for a $20-per-person fee.

Other highlights of the fair will include information on bicycle safety, poison control, nutrition, first aid, prenatal care, infant immunization and Good Shepherd Campaign Against Violence resources.

In addition, children will have the chance to learn fire safety tips and participate in home exit drills by visiting the Illinois Fire Inspector Assn. Kids' Safety House which will be set up at Good Shepherd. Free children's IDs and fingerprinting also will be offered.

Free pony rides, face painting, games and giveaways for fair attendees will round out the event's activities.

For more information about immunizations or the Kids' Care Fair, call the hospital's Health-Advisor line at 1-800-474-3278.

Good Shepherd Hospital, which is part of Advocate Health Care, is located north of Barrington on Hwy. 22, two miles west of Rte. 59.

Futuristic technology keeps patients from feeling isolated Saint Therese Medical Center received a pair of sophisticated $1,400 video phones from AT&T. The donated items have a 3.3 inch flip-up video screen so both the sender and receiver can see each other during the phone conversation.

The video phone program developed because of the prodding of a Florida transplant patient who was isolated from her family for six weeks while recovering. She explained the sense of loneliness and how she felt a device, such as the video phone, could help raise the spirits of hospitalized patients.

At Saint Therese, the device is used on a first come, first served basis. The phone can be plugged into any regular phone jack so the patients can use it while in bed. The only requirements is that the same phone be used at the receiving end but it can be rented from any AT&T phone store.

Phones were given to approximately 225 medical centers in 40 states.

Condell Medical Center's Hospice offers rewarding jobs for volunteers

Condell Medical Center's Hospice is seeking special people to assist in advancing its mission to provide palliative (pain management) and supportive care to terminally ill patients and their families. Volunteers will be specifically trained to assist in the patient's home or in the hospice offices in Libertyville.

"The hospice volunteers join physicians, nurses and social workers to become an integral part of the health care team that assists patients and their families during the last stages of life," according to Susan Peters, RN, the hospice coordinator. "After the patient dies, volunteers offer support to the family. Though hospice work is sometimes difficult, it is extremely satisfying and the rewards are invaluable."

Condell Medical Center's Hospice accepts patients regardless of age, race, sex, religion, terminal diagnosis or ability to pay. The Hospice is licensed by the State of Illinois to serve the residents of Lake County. It is a full-service, Medicare-certified hospital program.

For further information or to schedule an interview, call Condell's Dept. of Volunteers at 362-2905, ext. 5268.

"This tax is unfair to everyone because it increases the costs that must be passed along to other payers in the form of higher hospital charges. In a managed-care environment in which fewer and fewer payers pay full hospital charges, the tax is an additional cost that no hospital can afford to pay. We estimate that the extension of this tax will add an additional $200 on average to every hospital bill," says Selz.

To counteract the reduced payments from the state, the hospitals will closely evaluate the use of their resources to ensure that programs and services provided to the community are economically viable. This may result in changes to available services or elimination of some programs. As two of north Lake County's largest employers (approximately 2,200 people are employed between Victory Memorial and Saint Therese), Harrington and Selz are hesitant to talk about the possibility of staff reductions. But the hospitals cannot afford to continue to absorb the unpaid costs of caring for Medicaid patients forever. If the state continues to shirk its responsibilities, some tough decisions will be required by hospital administrators.

"The bottom line is that this disaster can be avoided," says Harrington. "The State of Illinois has the resources to support the Medicaid program, if it chooses to."

Selz agrees. "We have contacted Springfield with our concerns and we urge area residents to write their state senators and representatives, also. As health-care leaders, we are willing to work with the governor to find a more appropriate solution to this ongoing problem."

Rest easy again!

Getting You Back In Step From A Chronic Wound

Time isn't always the great healer. Sometimes wounds like diabetic ulcers, bed sores and surgical incisions simply won't heal, no matter how much time passes. Often, this means time lost waiting for the healing instead of enjoying all the fun and activity that life has to offer.

If a chronic wound is keeping you sidelined, don't lose hope. The specific and dedicated treatment needed to bring about recovery is available close to home, at the Wound Care Center of Lake County.

Located at Saint Therese Medical Center, the Wound Care Center brings together a team of skilled physicians, nurses and therapists who apply the latest technology in order to speed the healing process.

If a wound has persisted for over two months, it's time to start enjoying life to the fullest again. Schedule your appointment at the Wound Care Center of Lake County by calling 244-5900.

Thrive, not survive theme of Alzheimer's meeting

"Thriving Instead of Surviving" is the theme of the annual meeting of the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. on Sunday, June 11, from 2 to 4 p.m. at the Hyatt Regency Hotel in Oak Brook, 1909 Spring Rd.

The program, open to the public, is designed to make people aware of the effects of Alzheimer's disease and related disorders on the patients, their family members and others who tirelessly care for them. "It is possible to be an effective caregiver and thrive instead of survive if advantage is taken of the information, assistance and support available from the chapter," said Kent Barnheiser, executive director.

The free afternoon education program is designed not only for persons with Alzheimer's disease, but for caregivers, family members, friends and neighbors and the general public.

Three family caregivers will recount their experiences and methods for successfully caring for their family members. Donald Lund of Cook County will discuss caring for his wife, Dan Palmer of Lake County will relate his experiences in caring for his mother, and Juanita Tucker of Cook County will share her experiences and techniques in caring for her husband.

Also speaking will be Dorothy Seman, R.N., M.S., clinical coordinator for Alzheimer's Family Care Center in which the chapter is a participating partner. It is the only day care center in Chicago designed exclusively for the special needs of Alzheimer's patients. Seman will speak from a professional caregiver viewpoint, explaining the methods found most successful in maximizing the intellectual and physical abilities of the patient while providing general relief for the dedicated caregiver, who all too often is the second victim of Alzheimer's disease.

The meeting will also include an update of the programs and progress of the local Alzheimer's chapter, now marking its 15th anniversary of service in the greater Chicagoland community.

The Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. provides programs and services including a "Helpline" for information and emotional support, support groups throughout the four-county area, an Alzheimer's family care center, financial assistance for respite care services, an extensive referral network providing information and support, research into the causes, treatment and cure of Alzheimer's disease, and advocacy on behalf of patients and families.

Alzheimer's is a terminal, progressive and degenerative disease that attacks the brain and results in impaired thinking, memory and behavior. Approximately four million Americans are afflicted with Alzheimer's disease, including 100,000 in Chicagoland. Alzheimer's is the fourth leading cause of death among adults in the U.S., claiming 100,000 lives annually. For more information, contact the Chicago Area Chapter of the Alzheimer's Assn. at 933-2413.

New osteoporosis prevention study set

Those taking steroid medications have an opportunity to participate in the "Stop It!" study, Steroid-Induced Osteoporosis Intervention Trial. Osteoporosis, a progressive disease that causes thinning and weakening of the bones, is one of the possible side effects of steroid use. The study evaluates the safety and effectiveness of a new medication in preventing osteoporosis caused by taking steroid medications.

To qualify for this program, participants must take the equivalent of at least 7.5 mg oral prednisone daily for conditions such as rheumatoid arthritis, inflammatory bowel disease and asthma. Qualified volunteers receive all study-related care at no charge, including: doctor visits, X-ray and bone density measurements, laboratory services, study medication, calcium and Vitamin D supplements.

★ Kirk Players perform 'I Shot My Rich Aunt' ★

Maureen Slade catches Phyllis Carter, and Jon L. Lynn and Pat Blake, discuss markmanship.

On June 2 and 3, local audiences will have the opportunity to experience the amazing goings on at Wendrew Hall, a vast and stately manor not far from London—without leaving Mundelein. The Kirk Players will be presenting Mark Chandler's "I Shot My Rich Aunt," a "stiff-upper-lip" comedy about an unusual engagement party given by none other than the very proper and aristocratic Valonia Wendrew.

The excitement starts when Valonia (Phyllis Carter) offers to throw the engagement party for her nephew, Dustin Wendrew (Jon L. Lynn)—described appropriately by the author as "a nice nincompoop"—to get to know his new fiancée, Vivian Rexford (Paddy Lynn) never quite made it out of Wendrew Hall after her earlier visit to see Valonia when the guests started to arrive for the party. Before long, Vivian has Judy believing she is Aunt Valonia! The complications continue as Dustin's cousin, Nigel Wendrew (Matt Erickson), Judy's friend, Gwendolyn Natterly (Debbie Misela), and Henry Mayhew (Hill Carter) join in the confusion.

Eloise (Maureen Slade), the unappreciated maid, has her hands full keeping the party plans progressing in between the strange behaviors of the party-goers (and the party-crasher) and the lady of the house.

The situation worsens when Dustin and Bingo (Pat Blake), Judy's brother, go out to scare some starlings away from the party setup on the patio with a couple of rifles. Given how inept they are with firearms, it's a wonder that no one else got shot—or did they?

Background: Hill Carter, Debbie Misela, Phyllis Carter, Matt Erickson, Pat Blake, and Paddy Lynn. Foreground: Paula Marsh, and Jon L. Lynn.

The Kirk Players present "Wendrew Hall" at the Mundelein High School Theatre on Friday, June 2, or Saturday, June 3, at 8 p.m. Tickets are $6 for adults, $3 for seniors and children 12 and under. They are available at the door, from (sponsor) Bright Horizons, or from any Kirk Player.

Symphonic band sweeps the county

TINA L. SWIECH

Staff Reporter

There are groups who play music, and then there are bands that sweep you away with their sounds.

Lakes Area Community Band is one of them.

Made up of talented musicians, the symphonic band was formed in 1989 for the purpose of encouraging former high school and college musicians to return to a performing ensemble.

Patriotic melodies performed by the group may bring a tear to the eyes of audience members when they play their annual Independence Day show, on July 2 in Williams Park in Antioch.

They play a variety of tunes, including baroque and classical music, marches, theater and contemporary music. A few off-shoots have come from the band including a brass ensemble and, most recently, a big band group made up of about 16 members.

The Lakes Area Community Band was started by Tom Erlenborn, a Millburn resident.

Due to funding cuts, Erlenborn was suddenly offered half his salary at the Richmond-Burton High School where he'd been a music instructor for 16 years.

Erlenborn didn't want to waste all that time from his career, and a masters degree in music for only a portion of his former pay, so he left the school and opened up a music store—"Lakes Area Music Center."

Soon joyful tunes were being played. The following year, in the summer of 1989, Erlenborn gathered together some friends and family members, including his wife, Mary, and their son and daughter, and began the Lakes Area Community Band.

Since it started, the band has grown considerably to about 50 members, according to Erlenborn. His wife still enjoys playing her clarinet, and their son Jason also likes to be a part of the action.

Daughter Deldre is currently in college, so she doesn't get much of a chance to perform with the band, said the founder.

Members come from Gurnee, Lake Villa, Lindenhurst, Antioch, Libertyville and southern Wisconsin.

Just this spring, the Lakes Area Band became affiliated with the Lindenhurst Park District. This was done, explained Erlenborn, so they would be covered under the park district's liability insurance.

So far, it hasn't hurt any either. Erlenborn anticipates a lot more exposure being connected to the district. But he wants people to know, the band is still located in Antioch.

Each Monday evening, trumpet players, clarinetists, flutists, percussionists, and those who play the tubas, meet at Antioch Community High School to practice for their next performances.

The band schedules around five concerts each year, including a fall concert usually held in November, a Holiday Concert just before Christmas at Leisure Village senior citizen housing complex in Fox Lake, another Holiday Concert often held at various shopping centers, and a Pops Concert at Maravela's in Ingleside.

Other performances are also held at various schools in the area, including the College of Lake County.

Because they are a non-profit organization, the band must meet financial costs of its director, music purchases, and hall rentals, explained the founder. In order to make ends meet, often the band will solicit support from area businesses.

Roy Miller, owner of Dog N' Suds and Dry Dock Coin-Op in Ingleside has been a member of the band for the past several years.

Miller, a percussionist, said he's been playing drums since he was a child. Before he became the proprietor of the fast food chain, Miller was a band director for three years in the tiny central Illinois town of Manlius, near Peoria.

There were only 400 residents in the town when Miller was teaching, and he recalls 125 of them attended the high school. Then something happened which changed his mind about being a band leader. "I decided I liked music more than I liked teaching it," said Miller. He's been happily performing with the Lakes Area Band ever since.

For more information about the Lakes Area Band, or to participate, call (708) 395-5566.

Above, Roy Miller, proprietor of Dog N' Suds in Ingleside, beats on the drums—something he's done since he was a little kid. The percussionist said he used to be a music instructor, but gave that up in order to open his own business, and to play with the Lakes Area Community Band.

Right, a brass ensemble made up of 16 members, is the newest off-shoot to the Lakes Area Community Band.

Kids FARE

Long Grove Strawberry Festival offers two free performances

The 13th annual Long Grove Strawberry Festival is offering free performances for kids by two professional children's theatre groups during the weekend of June 24 and 25.

In addition the whole family can enjoy the celebration which salutes strawberries in almost every form, including shortcakes, pies, ice cream and covered with chocolate.

Musical groups will play throughout both days.

On both Saturday, June 24 and Sunday, June 25, the Puppet Place will present "Peter Cottontail" in Apple Haus Square, with the show scheduled hourly from noon to 3 p.m. On Saturday only, the Little Caboose Theater will perform "Oliver's Strawberry Patch" from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. on the Mill Pond Lawn, northeast of the crossroads of the historic village.

Long Grove, with ample free parking, is near the intersection of Routes 53 and 83. For more

Among the programs being offered are "Knee-High Naturalists", "Young Naturalist", "Eco-Adventures" and "Nature Explorers."

Junior golf lessons

Golf lessons for 10-to-15-year-olds will be offered from June 3 through August 26 at the Lake County Forest Preserves' Countryside Golf Course near Mundelein.

The four-week junior golf program is offered once each month through the summer at the course's driving range. Beginning June 3, July 8 and Aug. 5, Saturday morning junior golf lessons are offered from 9 to 10 a.m. Thursday morning junior golf lessons are scheduled to begin on June 29 and July 27, from 10 to 11 a.m.

Teaching professionals have designed the classes to introduce youngsters to golf in a fun and informative manner.

Basic and advanced swing skills, and the game's rules and etiquette will be taught.

Class size is limited to six students, guaranteeing personal attention. Pre-registration and advanced payment is required. The fee for each four-week junior golf program is $35.

Golf balls will be provided but participants will need to bring a putter, a #3 wood club and a #7 iron club.

Register in person at Countryside Golf Course, located on Hawley Road, just west of Rotes 60 and 83, near Mundelein. For more information, call 566-5544.

Dining suggestions while traveling Europe

by JIM WARNKEN,
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Let's answer the most important question about eating out while on vacation in Europe. How to save money.

Pick a restaurant as you would at home. For instance, what would you expect to pay for a breakfast at the Hilton in Chicago, which might cost you $3 at the Lake Villa restaurant? Look for a restaurant frequented by the "locals." Above all, don't eat at your hotel.

Try and eat what is native to the country you are visiting.

In Germany, I got along quiet well eating lunch at one of the many sausage stands. For a little more variety, try Germany's quaint beer gardens. In Holland, try a Broodjeswinkel for lunch. It's the Dutch version of a sandwich.

Not only can eating local food save money, but I find experiencing the cuisine is as exciting as experiencing everything else about a country.

Breakfast is included free with your hotel in many parts of Europe. The American breakfast of ham and eggs is very expensive. Again, do like the locals and eat a "continental breakfast." Save your appetite for the later meals.

If prices still seem high, remember that in Europe all taxes as well as tips are included in the price on the menu.

Final thoughts—if you order tea in England, you will get it with milk unless ordered "black." You may find yourself seated at a table with strangers at many of the local restaurants, as European restaurants will fill a table before seating people at the next available table.

"A great way to meet people and get free travel advice!"

LIFE'S A BEAR

Spring training for Oprah dropouts

Most of you probably know the words to Oprah's theme song—"I'm every woman—yeah, yeah, yeah—I'm every woman—whoo, whoo, whoo—I'm..." Something like that. And most of you also know that Oprah is not really every woman. Well, okay, she might have been a couple of women before the weight loss, and she does ask the questions that most of us would like to ask, but it is really not possible to be everything to everyone. So I've decided to take up where Oprah left off. While she's "almost every woman", I'm "the other woman." No, bad name—scratch that. I'm the "woman Oprah's not."

Anyway, somebody has to lead the rest of us who did not jump right on the "Oprah Spring Training" bandwagon. It might as well be me—writing this column does have its price, you see. Not as big a price as Oprah's show—not even as big a price as Oprah's nail polish—but a price, none-less. So, for all of you women out there who, like me, are not Oprah, it's time for us to begin our SUMMER training (yes, that's right—summer. Procrastinators that we are, spring just sort of passed us by).

To start our training, let's begin by holding a symbolic Twinkie bonfire (remove the plastic wrapper first, and no roasting/eating allowed). Oh, I almost forgot—first we need to have a goal. OK. Our goal will be to look better in September than we do now. By the way, liposuction is unfair to those of us who cannot afford it, so please try to do it the hard way. Or, share your plastic surgeon with a friend.

Now, we all know that the most important part of any "getting in shape" training is exercise. We don't like it, but we know it. As your leader, I know that the key to getting you to exercise is to make it pleasurable. However, I also know that husbands can sometimes be uncooperative, so we'll have to think of another way to burn those calories. How about this—next time you want a candy bar, walk to the store instead of driving. It's sort of the carrot/stick theory. However, this method tends to be ineffective if you live over one mile from the nearest store—you and I both know that the thought of walking more than a mile is as appealing as a trip to the dentist for a root canal. In that case, a shopping trip to Gurnee Mills may be substituted.

Second, we have to change the way that we think of our food. Repeat after me, "Twinkie—bad! Rice cakes—ycccch! Green vegetables—good, but the kids won't eat them." Start reading the labels at the grocery store. Did you know that a box of Dots candy has no fat? You'll be amazed what you can find.

Last, but not least, no "getting in shape" training program is complete without a motto. Although we cannot afford expensive television commercials for our motto (like someone else we know), it doesn't matter. We can still get our message across through newspaper advertising, right here on this page. So, look out world, here's our motto—"BEAR WITH US—WE'RE NOT OPRAH. YET."

Good food

Easy summer entertaining

For a low calorie and easy to make summer dish, try the following.

Spicy Cuban Chicken

- 1 8-ounce bottle fat free Italian dressing
- 3 cloves garlic, minced
- 1/2 teaspoon ground red pepper
- 1 pound boneless, skinless chicken breasts, cut into 1/4 inch thick strips
- 1 tablespoon olive oil
- 2 medium-size red or green bell peppers, chopped
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1 teaspoon oregano
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon ground cumin
- 6 cups cooked rice
- 2 15-ounce cans black beans, drained and rinsed
- 2 14 1/2-ounce cans diced tomatoes
- Chopped fresh cilantro

Combine dressing, garlic and red pepper in 2-cup glass measure or medium glass bowl. Place chicken in large glass bowl, pour dressing over chicken, cover and refrigerate 30 minutes to 1 hour. remove chicken from marinade, drain well, discard marinade. Heat oil in large skillet over medium-high heat until hot. Add chicken, cook 5 to 7 minutes, stirring until chicken is slightly brown, spooning off any excess liquid. Add bell peppers, onion, oregano, pepper and cumin. Cook, stirring 4 to 5 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Add rice, black beans and tomatoes. Cook 2 to 3 minutes more or until thoroughly heated. Garnish with cilantro, serve immediately. Makes 6 servings.

Actors outshine special effects

The third in the "Die Hard" series, "Die Hard With A Vengeance," is, of course, explosive from beginning to end like its two predecessors.

The action and special effects are no less effective and Willis and Samuel L. Jackson are at their best doing the usual running from villains, dodging bullets and explosions, etc.

New York Police Officer John McClane is no super hero like Arnold, nor is he the thing that champions like Rocky are made of; he's just an average Joe pulling superhuman stunts and getting away with it.

Every action film has to have a top-notch villain, and in this case it's Jeremy Irons, whose voice was a fantastic villain in the cartoon "Lion King." Here it's Irons' vocal chords that again are the villain for the most part, but it doesn't work as well this time.

Irons is out to get Willis personally as he stages catastrophe after crash-up at several different New York sites to get his man.

Jackson, who saves Willis' hide in a racial situation as the film starts, turns in his usual stellar performance. In fact, it's the rapport between Jackson and Willis that steals the show here.

The "Die Hard" series has been based on the impossible happening, and that had worked up until now. There are just too many holes in the script to ring true. Willis and Jackson, however, do a marvelous job of trying to make it happen, even though they do seem to be the only ones after the people who blow up a metropolitan bank.

"Die Hard" was the top money draw this weekend and will probably have no trouble making more than its cost of $75 million.

We give it a 4 rating out of a possible 5 on the strength of some of the magnificent special effects and the personalities of Willis and Jackson. Though many kids want to see this movie, the rating is "R," meaning over 17, and for good reason, Mom and Dad.—by GLORIA DAVIS

Horoscope

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You'll receive that long-awaited financial backing you've been expecting for a pet project. Others are impressed this week by what you have to say at a group meeting. Dealings with agents are favored.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) It's a banner week for social interests. You could be hearing wedding bells soon, either for yourself or for a close friend. Initiative in business brings you many financial gains.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) It's a good week for signing papers and reaching agreements. In business, a major opportunity could drop into your lap. However, you must be alert and aware of what's going on around you. Couples could begin a pleasure trip.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) Partners could be working together this week on an intellectual project. While you have good instincts, this person adds much to your venture. Later in the week, you'll be invited to a party or to take a trip. Good news comes this weekend.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Financial help or a gift could come from a relative or close friend. However, be sure that you don't borrow more than you can repay in a comfortable manner. Think twice before committing to that major purchase you're considering.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) While some could opt for travel at this time, others are busy with home improvements and domestic concerns. Good news comes toward the end of the week in the form of a phone call or letter. A visit to a favorite haunt is on tap this weekend.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) The week's business and financial developments will make you very happy. You'll enjoy a hobby that gives you physical exercise and whips you back into shape. Best of all, you won't feel that you're "working out."

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Creative types will be busy adding the finishing touches to a project this week. Judgment is good about financial interests, but avoid making any major monetary decisions. Consult with your mate first. Socializing is a plus.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Communications skills are tops this week. It's a week to act on your ideas. It seems that whatever you turn your hand to is magic now. A private joy is a cause for happiness for the entire family. Share it.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) A private talk bodes well for your financial interests. Your circle of friends widens through no special effort of your own. However, someone isn't who they appear to be on the surface. At work, your concentration is good.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) A business development gives you cause to celebrate by week's end. You'll be making plans to give a party. However, instead of your usual painstaking planning, go for a more spontaneous atmosphere. You'll have more fun.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) It's one of the best weeks of the year for you to travel according to the stars. You'll be receiving good news from afar, but it won't be a total surprise. A work interest goes well.

School overhaul

The problem with finances for Dist. 46 and 127 lies not locally, but in all of Lake County. Dist. 46 is just the most conspicuous element for those of us that live in Grayslake. Why do we need two superintendents of schools, two business managers, and two separate administrations for a village of 12,000-13,000 people. It's crazy! Let's eliminate the duplication and overhead in non-productive roles and then analyze the savings from consolidation. Then we can look at the duplication and wasteful spending at the school level in Dist. 46.

No more America

I live in Lake County and work for a health-related company here. I'd like to know why our local business and political leaders are working so hard to recreate the great depression of the '30s. I'd like to know why the facility I work for has no money and is making budget cuts and laying people off. Why is this happening? This isn't America anymore. America's gone, there's nothing here. This country stinks. There's no work anymore. I wish I was old and retired so I wouldn't have to worry about this anymore.

Whose voice?

To the new trustee of Wauconda, Liza Johnson, who says she is the voice of the people. Who does she speak for? The people in the village who will pay higher taxes now that she's on the board, or the township residents who pushed to get her elected so she could best represent their interests?

Mayor has right

To the idiots who live in Wauconda Township, the mayor of the village has the right to make committee appointments. Are you not satisfied with control of our board with the township running four trustees?

Authority switched

When did the residents of Wauconda hand over authority to Wauconda Township? It's amazing to see Mr. and Mrs. Hemple speak out against a well that is needed for water supply and pressure in Wauconda when they have their own well, live on a farm, and are zoned agriculture. People, wake up, they pay no taxes to the village and right now they run your board.

Don't lie

Let me tell all of you children, don't lie about sexual abuse. Two reports and three doctors later, someone is still trying to say that a child lied. And it has been proven that they don't. These people that are doing this to our children need help, and lots of it.

Looking for home

I'm sitting here reading the article in Gurnee Press about the luxury apartments that they want to put up on the north side of O'Plaine and Rte. 120. The rent would be $775 to $1200 a month. I've lived in Gurnee all my life and my daughter has been in the school district. The house we live in has been sold, so we have to move and have nowhere to go. I've called every apartment complex in Gurnee in attempts of finding a place so she can finish out her school years with her friends, but have had no luck. We are on Section 8 and have been since my daughter was little. There's either a long waiting list or no one will take someone on Section 8. Because of a few bad eggs, this has ruined it for those who are decent. Why does everything always have to be for the rich. I can't help that we're poor, aren't the poor good enough? I need a place by August 1st, is there anyone in Gurnee who can help us?

Enforce leash law

I am from Wauconda and I am tired of watching this person walk his big yellow dog without a leash and use my front lawn as a toilet. He lives on Lakeshore Blvd. Isn't there a leash law? Why can't the police or animal control give him a ticket?

Park is menace

I'm calling about a park in Round Lake Beach located on Lakewood Parkway and Golf View Road that has been nothing but trouble ever since it was built. I wish the police would keep a better watch. When they play baseball, they play with hard balls and they're constantly hitting cars, home windows, and people. Police aren't doing anything. I wish the village would. Maybe put up high fences, or keep the park the way it used to be, for small children. The park is not enjoyed and it's a constant menace to everyone living around it.

No more junk

Wake up, Antioch! I've never seen so much junk laying alongside the road. It's starting to look like Chicago. We have no one around here to pick up junk. A lot of people just drop their junk by the side of the road. Why don't we have one day a month for pickup for junk outside of people's homes? Let's keep this area clean and beautiful. You can sell a lot of these items in a scrap yard and make money.

Blame Republicans

Republicans fostered the environment in which this terrorist stuff can happen. They wouldn't know the truth if it jumped up and hit them. Remember Reagan and Oliver North? As for Rush Limbaugh, don't make me laugh. That fat slob wouldn't know the truth if it stood up and bit him on his fat you-know-what!

Teach a lesson

I live in Fox Lake. Last night, a child of 14 or 15 years old threatened to kill my child because he didn't like the way my child rollerbladed. I would like to suggest that the parents in this town who have children who are responsible all buy guns and kill or maim all of the children who are terrorizing our kids. I think it would send a message that we aren't putting up with it anymore. We need to make paraplegics out of them. That way, they won't harm our children.

USA will be sold

First the Republicans destroy the Clean Water Act, and now they're after the Endangered Species Act. This country won't be fit to live in if there's no animals or if they destroy the environment. People better wake up or the Republicans will sell this country to the highest bidder.

Greedy teachers

I'm calling about the extended school year in Round Lake. It just goes to show that not only are the teachers being unfair to the people in the community, they've already ruined the kids' school year, their summer, and now they have to go an extra three weeks because the teachers are so greedy that they won't give up an additional three days pay. Look at the money that they're going to cost our school district, over $175,000 for those three days because my kid and probably 75% of the other kids won't be in school for those three days. Think about this next time you want a pay raise.

Fault the teachers

I just want to say that it is the teacher's union's fault that we're in school until July 6 because if they wouldn't have been on strike, we wouldn't have this problem. As a senior, I am getting out on June 9. To the person who wrote last week saying "be responsible," they can shove it!

Keep prayer out

There's been a lot of talk about prayer in public schools. I say keep your prayers the hell out of my school. If you want to teach something to kids, teach them of the slaughter and destruction of the native people by the whites, Europeans, and Spanish. That's what you ought to teach them!

Tasty Thai serves up delicious, healthy fare

If you're in a food rut, stop into Tasty Thai for a healthy and delicious alternative that will quickly become a favorite. Owner Tom Ophaphaiboon proudly notes that Tasty Thai offers contemporary Thai dining with an exquisite Thai touch.

There are many authentic Thai dishes to choose from, including popular appetizers like Satay Chicken, Thai Sausage, Thai Hot Wings, Spring Rolls, and Shrimp and Vegetable Tempura. A variety of soups, including Tom Yum and Tom Kar, and salads are also on the menu. Thai Noodle dishes such as Pad Thai, Pad See Ew, and Pad Ki Mao are popular lunch selections. Tasty Thai also offers many varieties of fried rice.

Tasty Thai's luncheon specials, which include soup of the day and an egg roll, are available Monday through Friday, starting at only $4.95.

Entrees include traditional Thai dishes such as Cashew Chicken, which is stir-fried boneless chicken breast with roasted cashew nuts, straw mushrooms, pineapples, pea pods, and bell peppers; Garlic Chicken, a sautéed boneless chicken, beef, or pork with freshly crushed garlic and white pepper, stir-fried with carrots and pea pods; and for those whose taste buds crave spicy concoctions, Hot and Spicy, stir-fried chicken, beef, or pork with onion and green hot pepper in a spicy sauce.

Tasty Thai's menu also includes a variety of Thai Curry, seafood dishes, beverages (including cocktails), and side orders of peanut sauce, cucumber salad, or imported Jasmine Rice, which Tom describes as the "best rice in Thailand." For dessert, don't miss the Thai Custard.

Tom uses Thai herbs for cooking, some of which include lemon grass and lime leaf, giving the food an authentic taste. He says that Thai food is very low calorie, using a great deal of vegetables, seafood, and chicken.

Tasty Thai seats approximately 75 and will provide catering at home or outside locations for 20 or more people. Call (708) 367-1980.

Tasty Thai is located at 276 Hawthorne Village Commons in Vernon Hills, and is open Monday through Thursday from 11:30 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Friday and Saturday from 11:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m.; and Sunday from 4 to 9:30 p.m.

Celebrate 2nd Annual Summerfest at Terry's

Start off your summer at Terry's Mexican Restaurant. On June 24, 1995, at 7 p.m., that's exactly what you can do! Terry's is pleased to provide a spectacular celebration with delicious entrees like whole Maine lobster, soft shell crabs, shrimp salad, Cabrito (baby goat), Conejo (rabbit), and Chicken Poblano. Dancing to live music by the "A-Chords" will make the evening unforgettable! Prizes and lots of fun await, so reserve your table early!

As always, Terry's offers the gourmet Mexican dishes you've often enjoyed. Paella for two, Fruta del Mar, Spicy Shrimp with Peaches, Citrus Chicken, Nachos Imperial, and Carne Asada are among the favorites. The new rotisserie weekend specials such as pork, beef tenderloin, duck, chicken and more are a delicious alternative. Only the freshest ingredients and no preservatives are used. Don't be surprised when Terry's plans another seasonal party with live music, dancing, and dinner specials which certainly enhance the occasion.

Be sure to plan your meeting, party, or special event. Terry's accommodates up to 60 people in a private room with reasonable rates.

Terry's Mexican Restaurant is located at 325 N. Seymour Ave., Mundelein, IL in the Hawley Commons shopping center. For reservations, please call (708) 566-9530. Carry-out available. Handicapped accessible. Cash, Visa, M/C, Discover, AmX are welcomed. Hours are Monday through Friday, 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 4 to 10 p.m. Closed Sunday and major holidays. Dining al fresco.

Walkways should be attractive invitation to homes

The worst aspect of a landscape that I see time and time again is the excuse of a walkway, two-foot wide, in concrete which leads to the front door of a beautiful home. It's awful and needs to be addressed.

A walkway should welcome one to your home. We prefer four-foot wide walkways, so two people can walk side by side.

Try to pull off of the architecture of your home for your walkway. Either match the color of your home or use a nice contrasting color.

Many different hardscape materials can be used, such as brick which comes in many different shapes and colors; flagstone steppers for informal entryways—they come in earth-tone brown colors as well as the limestone; and slate or bluestone is another option for an exquisite entryway.

Concrete stoops and steps are another feature that is bothersome on certain sites, especially when the stoop itself is so small you feel as though you're going to fall off if you don't rush inside.

Many times, decorative brick, flagstone or bluestone can be applied over your existing stoop. Use a mason jar for this work, or someone in the trade who performs this work on a daily basis. We subcontract out this work and never have anything but a professional job done.

For steps, many times I'll design in Highland Brown Antique steps, or random Chestnut steps; and if the site calls for it, even railroad tie steps.

The key is to pull off the architecture of the home and make it a pleasant experience for those who walk up to your home. If using more than one material in your hardscape, make sure they blend well together and enhance the existing surroundings.

Entryways are transitional areas and should lead someone, without question, to their destination. This experience can become more pleasurable with dwarf, soft-textured plants on both sides of the entryway, or perhaps only on one side.

Make this type of planting flowing and simple to the eye, leading one to the door or gate. Save all the bright-colored, varied and textured plants with many forms for the viewing garden on your site.—by MIKE GRECO, landscape architect/owner of Mill Creek Nursery, Wadsworth.

Follow lawn mowing safety tips

Operating lawn equipment safely begins before you ever step out of the house. Even if you're tempted by steamy summer conditions, wear appropriate clothing to protect yourself when mowing the lawn. Rather than bare feet or sandals, wear sturdy shoes with traction soles. A swim suit and shorts don't provide much of a safeguard, so wear long pants with your shirt tucked in.

If you're a smoker, leave all smoking materials in the house.

Check the mower to ensure that all safety shields and switches are in place and working. Then, walk the lawn and check for any toys, tools or yard debris that could get caught in the blade.

Mow when the grass is dry to increase traction and decrease soil compaction. With a walk-behind mower, mow back and forth across slopes. That way, should you trip or fall, the mower is less likely to tumble onto you.

Do the opposite with a riding mower—mow up and down slopes for greatest stability.—by ELLEN HENKE, lawn and garden expert.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

Hunt wins achievement award

BANNOCKBURN—The Lake Suburban Chapter of Women in Management, Inc. proudly recognizes Karen Hunt as the 1995 Woman of Achievement winner in the corporate category. Hunt has been a member of Women in Management since 1992 and is slated as the president-elect of the Lake Suburban Chapter. As the winner in the corporate category, Hunt is employed as vice president of commercial banking for Biltmore Investors Bank in Lake Forest. She has been in banking since 1983 and in her current position since 1991. Hunt has distinguished herself by taking time out of her professional career to become a volunteer. Her past community involvement includes helping victims of domestic abuse at Pittsburgh's Women's Shelter for Abused Women. She also worked through Parental Stress Services in providing parenting classes at various locations in such sites as the Jessie "Ma" Huston Correctional Facility in Chicago. Earlier this year, she was elected president of the board of the YWCA of Northeastern Illinois.

Low rates may boost sales

ELKINS PARK, PA.—Interest rates have dropped an average of 1.25 percent since January, when they peaked at 9.25 percent for a 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage. Based on a 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage, a buyer who would qualify for $91,000 at 9 percent would qualify for $100,000 at 8 percent. Lower rates also renew interest in refinancing, according to Pat Sheehy, managing director of residential lending for GMAC Mortgage. Homeowners can refinance for a variety of reasons, including changing from an adjustable rate mortgage to a more stable fixed rate, or simply to take cash-out of a property's equity. They may also refinance to shorten a mortgage term. In some cases, mortgage terms can be made substantially less for making the same payment the homeowner is presently making.

First Chicago sponsors seminar

OAK BROOK—The First National Bank of Chicago will sponsor a two-day seminar designed to provide business owners, managers and entrepreneurs with the crucial tools required to manage the finances of their businesses. The seminar will be held June 27 and 28 at The Lodge, a conference center at McDonald's corporate headquarters on Ronald Lane, Oak Brook. For information, call First Chicago at (312)407-3995. The seminar meets state requirements for 16 units of continuing education credit for CPAs.

New ACT Center assists in life's changes

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

We live in a fickle world where change is inevitable and where enduring transition between changes is a matter of survival.

A new, "first-of-its-kind" resource center designed to help people of all ages manage transition opened in Vernon Hills. The ACT Center, as noted in its mission statement, aims to provide assistance to youth and adults for successful transitions in education, career and work.

The non-profit organization is a byproduct of the nationally famed American College Test, which high school students have taken for the last 35 years as they prepared for college. The new ACT Center will now offer assessment, planning and consulting services directly to the community, and the Vernon Hills center is the first of what is expected to be hundreds of ACT centers to open across the country.

Quite simply, the ACT Center will offer a wide variety of advising to the elementary-level student wishing to improve academic performance, to the high school student choosing a college or career path, to the adult changing jobs or planning for retirement.

The significance of the grand opening was evident by the welcoming arms of County Board Chairman Robert Depke, Regional Superintendent of Schools Edward Gonwa, LMV Chamber of Commerce Henry Krippner, Libertyville High School Superintendent Donald Gossett, Vernon Hills Trustee Donald Hook as well as staff members from the offices of Sen. Paul Simon, Sen. Carol Moseley-Braun, Rep. John Porter, and staffers representing state legislators Adeline Geo-Karis, Andrea Moore and Lauren Beth Gash.

"The Center is ready to serve both youth and adults whether they're in school, on the job or somewhere in between," said ACT President Richard L. Ferguson. "We can help them establish career goals and the plans to achieve those goals."

Armed with business and human resource specialists, teachers, counselors, consultants and an array of computer programs and resource material, the organization is dedicated to helping individuals make successful transitions at key points in their lives.

Krippner, who leads the largest chamber of commerce in Lake County, embraced the center as a resource to help steer future employees toward the right training for high-tech and service-oriented jobs.

"We're growing really fast. The businesses are having difficulty filling the jobs," Krippner said. "There's a demand to fill jobs."

Many area companies, like Motorola for example, cannot fill their work force with the properly trained employees. Many times, Krippner said, Lake County businesses have to seek employees from other counties to fill positions.

"The ACT Center will be in a position to assess the aptitude of employees and guide them into the proper occupation," Krippner said. "We're importing a lot of people. If they can train and guide employees and fill jobs locally, this will benefit everybody."

Gonwa noted that Lake County is a well-educated county, calling it a "community of learners." As young people struggle with career choice and adults change careers, Gonwa said the center will help lead people in the right direction.

LaVista leaving CLC for Maryland chancellorship

RHONDA HETRICK BURKE
Editor in Chief

Dr. Daniel J. LaVista, president of the College of Lake County, has accepted the position as chancellor of the Community Colleges of Baltimore County, Maryland beginning Sept. 1.

LaVista, who has been at CLC's helm since April 1987, announced his decision to the college's faculty in a noon meeting, Wednesday.

The Community Colleges of Baltimore County are comprised of three separate community colleges. Presidents of those colleges will report to LaVista in his position as chancellor.

"My job is to create the district," said LaVista. The community colleges have a combined enrollment of 70,000 students. The oldest college in the group is 40 years old.

"This is a tremendous professional opportunity," LaVista said. "CLC is a great school with a strong faculty. They'll weather the change of leadership well."

with LaVista when he made the announcement to the faculty.

LaVista assumed the presidency of CLC during a period of staggering growth and development in Lake County. Under LaVista's leadership, the college successfully sought the support of the governor and the state legislators for funding to expand facilities. A ground breaking ceremony for a $13.6 million state-funded classroom building and a $9.7 million locally funded instructional performing arts building was held in July 1993. The opening of both buildings is expected in the 1995-96 school year. Additionally, LaVista has overseen the expansion of CLC's Lakeshore campus in Waukegan.

LaVista is chairman of the board of directors of the United Way of Lake County and is actively involved with Lake County Learns and the Illinois Community College Presidents Council.

LaVista lives in Libertyville with his wife, Rosemary.

CLC's current enrollment exceeds 15,000 students. They are served by more than 1,000 employees, including 187 full-time and 639 part-time faculty members.

BUSINESS PERSONNELS—Rate drop aids in new activity

Arlene Palabe

Arlene Palabe was honored as a top Chicago area associate at Prudential Preferred Financial Services for her 1994 sales achievements. Palabe, who joined Prudential in 1991, was the Associate of the Year Award winner in 1994 and was also the recipient of the New Associate of the Year award in 1992. She and her husband, Chris, reside in Gurnee with their son Jason.

P.P. "Bud" Sprouse

P.P. "Bud" Sprouse has been named vice president-marketing of the Haulpak Division of the Komatsu Dresser Co., headquartered in Peoria. He will be responsible for worldwide sales and marketing of off-highway trucks and large wheel loaders produced by Haulpak for mining applications. Komatsu Dresser Co., headquartered in Lincolnshire, is owned by Komatsu Ltd. of Tokyo.

The drop in long-term interest rates has created a window of opportunity for home refinancings and new, fixed-rate mortgages, according to the First National Bank of Chicago. But the window could close very quickly.

"I'd suggest that people take the money and run!" said Diane Swonk, the bank's deputy chief economist. "The economy is looking very strong for the second quarter and inflation is creeping up. This has set the stage for a substantial increase in mortgage rates."

The mortgage-rate drop has been dramatic, even as short-term rates have moved higher or flattened out.

"Long-term interest rates have declined by more than 1 full percentage point just since Jan. 1, putting them at their lowest level since early 1994," said Jack Eastman, a vice president at First Chicago's mortgage services subsidiary. "A year ago, the rate on a 30-year, fixed-rate mortgage with no points was 9.25 percent. Today, it's hovering near 8.15 percent."

A rate drop of 1 percentage point saves a homeowner $840 a year—or $70 a month—in principal-and-interest payments on a $100,000 mortgage.

Current fixed rates should be particularly attractive to the many home buyers who hedged their interest rate bets last year by taking out one-year, adjustable-rate mortgages. When the annual rate adjustment is made this year, the rates and payments on these mortgages will rise sharply.

Last year, 40 percent of mortgages closed in the Midwest carried rates that will adjust within five years, many within one year. That's an unusually high percentage because Midwesterners traditionally prefer fixed-rate loans so they will know how much their principal-and-interest payments will be for the next 15 or 30 years.

Today, the rate on one-year, adjustable-rate mortgages is about 7.25 percent, meaning that the first rate adjustment—in 1996—could put the rate higher than the current fixed rate, Eastman said.

"Now is the time for homeowners and home buyers to take advantage. A number of experts expect rates will bounce back up soon."

Consumers have started to respond.

"First Chicago, which is one of the region's largest originators, saw significantly increased volume for new mortgages the week of May 8," Eastman said. "We generated $28 million in loans, and about 30 percent of them were refinancings. We anticipate both refinancing volume and total volume will climb in the weeks ahead."

Stephanie Smith-Howard

Stephanie Smith-Howard, owner of Design Insurance Brokers in Hawthorn Woods, has been elected to the board of directors of the Chicago and Northeastern Illinois Assn. of Health Underwriters, a consortium of 500 members dedicated to educating the public in all areas of insurance. She and her husband, Daniel, have three children and three grandchildren. They live in Hawthorn Woods.

William C. Finn

William C. Finn of Gurnee has joined First Midwest Bank as a commercial lender. Formerly with Grand National Bank, Finn has a master's degree in finance from Northern University and is currently enrolled in the Graduate School of Banking, University of Colorado.

Peter F. Polster

Peter F. Polster, P.E., of Libertyville, has been named an associate of the national engineering firm of Greeley and Hansen. Polster, who joined the firm in 1985, serves as director of marketing for the firm in the Chicago headquarters.

C. Lee Gutman, Jr.

C. Lee Gutman, Jr. has been promoted to divisional vice president, quality assurance, in the hospital products division at Abbott Laboratories. Previously, he was divisional vice president, hospital products manufacturing operations, in the same division. Gutman resides in Libertyville with his wife, Marion.

Monica Heldecke

Monica Heldecke of Hainesville has been promoted to operations officer First Midwest Bank based in Waukegan. Heldecke has been with the bank for over five years and has the additional duties of teller supervisor and safe deposit supervisor.

Thomas J. Heller

Thomas J. Heller has been promoted to divisional vice president of U.S. customer service operations in the diagnostics division at Abbott Laboratories. Previously, he was director of U.S. customer service operations in the same division. Heller resides in Pleasant Prairie with his wife, Deborah, and their three sons.

important information to help people make the proper choices," Gonwa said.

LHS Superintendent Gossett said the center could help schools prepare students for the work world by constructing portfolios and student assessments. He also said the center could lend its expertise in assisting Libertyville High School as it becomes a regional hub on the Internet.

"There's all kinds of opportunities to work together," Gossett said.

Bob Graham, executive director of the ACT Center, went on to say that it could assist retired seniors in financial planning or budget matters. He would also like to place seniors in positions where they can still share their wealth of knowledge and experience.

"There's still a lot of untapped talent among seniors," Graham said. "I don't want to see all that experience go to waste."

The ACT Center is now open in RiverTree Court in Vernon Hills, and its doors are open to individuals, schools, community organizations, government agencies and businesses to help them prepare for successful life transitions.

Jewel-Osco opens new store

Jewel-Osco has announced the grand opening of a new combination food and drug store at 6509 W. Grand Ave. in Gurnee. The 75,000-square-foot store, part of the Hunt Club Center at the corner of Hunt Club Rd. and Grand Ave. is open for business. It will employ approximately 330 people.

The focal point of the store's interior is a large, open fresh food aisle. Key departments include a full-line fresh bake shop, fresh poultry shop and service meat department, floral produce, Chef's Kitchen Deli and Pier 14 fresh seafood departments.

Richtman named to bank board

John P. "Jack" Richtman has been named as a director of Anchor Bank, according to bank president John Wolf.

Richtman is a practicing attorney at law and partner with Churchill, Baumgartner & Quinn, Ltd. in downtown Grayslake. He has been with the firm and lived in Grayslake since graduating from law school at DePaul University seven years ago.

Richtman is currently a member of the Illinois State Bar Association's Trust & Estate Section Council and the Lake County Bar Association's Probate and Estates Committee. His general practice focuses in the areas of probate, estate planning and real estate.

The Immediate Past President of the Grayslake Exchange Club, Richtman is also the treasurer for his church and has served on the Environmental Protection and Open Space Commission for the Village of Grayslake.

Richtman lives in Grayslake with his wife, Bonnie, and four children. Since being established in July 1991, Anchor Bank has achieved total assets of $21 million. The bank is a Gold Sponsor for this year's Centennial Celebration in Grayslake.

Service provides free —MURPHY ON REAL ESTATE— contractor referrals

Terri Murphy

Spring is here, and a homeowners thoughts turn to improving the home and garden, maybe doing some landscaping or putting on a new roof, possibly even remodeling the kitchen or bathroom.

The question is, with all those contractors, tradespeople and other out there, eager to help you—and take your money—where do you start?

One good place would be with Consumer Connections, Inc., says Margie Jones, who established the Palatine-based contractors referral service. "We take the fear out of hiring the unknown," adds Jones. Consumer Connections has a toll-free number in which homeowners can now utilize, 1-800-991-2860. It is a free service that provides the names of qualified, reputable, thoroughly checked out contractors. "It's as easy as 1-2-3," said Jones. "People have trusted 1-800-DOCTORS for years, so our contractors are able to walk into a home with added credibility. It's a win-win situation for everyone involved."

Qualified referrals are available for all areas of home repair and improvement, from air conditioning, basement remodeling, bathroom remodeling, electrical, kitchen remodeling, plumbing, roofing, siding, wildlife control and more. Each contractor listed is fully registered, adequately insured and screened, with credentials verified through Consumer Connections, Inc.

Consumer Connections provides an unconditional guarantee to promote satisfaction within the service. If a problem with one of the referred contractors arises, Consumer Connections is there to help resolve any dispute.

State filing brings increased long distance competition

Illinois took another step toward becoming the first state in the nation to taste the benefits of a fully competitive communications marketplace when Ameritech filed prices and terms for opening its local network to easier access by its competitors.

Thus unbundling of local services is a critical precondition to Ameritech's being permitted to provide long distance service in the Chicago area under a recommendation made last month by the U.S. Dept. of Justice. The Justice Dept. plan is before Federal Judge Harold Greene, who oversees the 1982 court decree which broke up the old Bell system and prohibited local service providers like Ameritech from providing long distance service.

The filing largely implements Ameritech's Customers First plan, which was filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission in February 1994 and modified and approved by the commission in April. The filing spells out how other local service providers may purchase piece-parts of capabilities in order to package competitive local communications services.

According to Doug Whitley, president of Ameritech Illinois, the filing keeps Illinois on track to become a national proving ground for the benefits of full and fair competition in local and long distance markets. Whitley added, "We expect that steps like those we've taken will lead to Ameritech's entry into the long distance business early next year, stimulating more competitive prices, greater innovation and higher quality service."

Tenants can cause depreciation

The great American dream is property ownership. Owning several investment properties can guarantee financial security, assuming the value of the real estate continues to appreciate, commonly the case. There are several important questions to ask yourself before assuming the title of "landlord."

Oftentimes, a customer is looking for a property that needs a little cosmetic improvement, hoping to purchase at fair market value or less. When willing to invest time, effort and some "fix-up" improvements, the property is expected to command rental income to offset the monthly obligations while appreciating in value during the course of the rental life. At some point, the seller's objective is to own the property free and clear, while enjoying passive rental income for financial security. This is a positive scenario; unfortunately, there are some points that enter into the perfect story that one should be aware of.

As a landlord, you must be prepared to carry the property if there is a lapse in the rental period between tenants. If it takes one to two months to secure another renter, you may be putting yourself in financial jeopardy, depending on your personal reserves.

Generally, between tenancies, the property will require painting and cleaning. Normal wear and tear is to be expected when there is frequent moving in and out. Depending on the terms specific terms of your lease, be concerned if your tenant did some "personalized" decorating that will require substantial work on your part to revert to "normal" condition. Bathrooms painted black may be attractive to some, but will not be as acceptable to the majority of people. Think about adding a clause to your lease requiring that all painting or decorating be approved in writing before the tenant can do anything to your property.

The most common problem with tenants is the "pet" factor. There are those people who maintain their pet is "family" and extremely well behaved. That may all be well and true, however, be prepared to either replace carpeting or shampoo very thoroughly for the next group. There are many people who have strong allergic reactions to cats and dogs, and will cause you to have to invest more "security" dollars to make the property habitable again. Some landlords protect themselves by adding more to the security deposit to cover the risk of pets. Remember, the constant dipping into the equity reserves will narrow your return on investment.

You are also responsible for unpaid utility bills should your tenant skip town. A security deposit should not be used as the last month's rent. A better idea is to have the tenant give the security deposit plus an extra amount to cover extensive cleaning or unpaid utilities should the occasion arise. Normal wear and tear is to be expected, but excessive damage will need to be documented prior to the beginning of the lease, so the responsibility falls on the correct party.

Many times a tenant will contribute to the depreciation of a property due to the lack of maintenance. Encourage your tenant to keep your informed of leaky faucets or drains, doors that are in disrepair or broken windows. You want the tenant to enjoy the premises with pride, while you enjoy the appreciated future value. Take the time to inspect the property at least once a year to monitor your investment and minimize future depreciation due to negligence.

Henry A. Mengell,

Age 86, of Antioch, IL passed away Tuesday, May 30, 1995 at Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan, IL. He was born October 25, 1908 in Mayaguez, Puerto Rico. He lived in New Orleans before moving to Chicago, moving to Antioch in 1972. Henry served in the U.S. Army during WW II as a Sgt. in the M.P.'s in France. He worked as an engineer at the Continental Insurance Company Building in Chicago before his retirement and was a member of the International Operating Engineers Union Local #399 of Chicago.

Survivors include his wife Frances; 2 daughters, Joan (Joseph) Dugo of Libertyville, IL and Ardis (Joseph) Sitar of Twin Lakes, WI; 1 sister Abelisa (Paul) Kirmura of Palos Park, IL; 6 grandchildren, Mark, Christy and Daniel Dugo, David Del Gatto and Jason and William Stearns; 3 great grandchildren, Michele, Douglas and Ashley.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, May 31, 1995 at the Strang Funeral Home, 1055 Main St., (Rt. 83), Antioch, IL. Interment was private. In lieu of flowers donations may be made to the Antioch Rescue Squad, Antioch, IL 60002 in his memory.

Mildred C. Mahoney,

Age 85, of Burbank, CA, formerly of Lake Villa, IL, passed away May 23, 1995. She was employed by Cunningham Cartage of Antioch. She was the widow of Thomas Mahoney, Lake County Deputy Sheriff.

Survivors include a son, Jack Mahoney of Venice, FL; daughters Jill Mahoney Baker of Encino, CA and Terri Mahoney of Burbank, CA; 12 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Major Clarence T. Marsh, III,

Age 41, of Park City, Utah, was killed in the crash of an Air National Guard A-10 jet fighter on White Sands Missile Range, north of Fort Bliss, Texas on Friday morning, May 19, 1995. Known as C.T., he was employed in January, 1987 by Delta Air Lines as a Boeing 727 co-pilot, flying out of Chicago, and since 1993, Salt Lake City.

Prior to his employment with Delta, C.T. served ten years on active duty with the Air Force. After graduating from Kecoughtan High School in Hampton, Virginia in 1973, he received his commission from the Air Force Academy in June, 1977. Following graduation and upon completion of pilot training he served as an instructor pilot in the T-37 aircraft. From September, 1980 to November, 1981 he volunteered for and was assigned to fly the T-88 in Keflavik, Iceland. During this time, he attained his Masters Degree in Management from Webster University, St. Louis. When he returned to the United States, C.T. was assigned to the 48th Fighter Interceptor Squadron at Langley AFB, Virginia where he flew the T-33 and subsequently the F-15 Fighter Interceptor. In March, 1987, C.T. separated from active duty and in January, 1988, joined the Battle Creek Air National Guard. Initially, he was assigned to the 110th Direct Air Support Squadron flying the A-37. Later he joined the unit's 172nd Fighter Squadron. He trained to fly the A-10 when the base converted to that aircraft. As a traditional Guard member, C.T. trained with the unit regularly. He also served many additional training periods and duty days to meet unit mission requirements. Earlier this year, he deployed with the unit in support of the U.N.'s Operation Deny Flight over Bosnia. C.T. was promoted to Major in June, 1991. Included among his many awards are the Air Force Commendation Medal, the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award with Oak Leaf Cluster, the Combat Readiness Award, and the National Defense Service Medal.

C.T. is survived by his wife, Ann; 3 children, Lindsay, Clay and Andrew; his parents, Colonel (ret.) Clarence T. and June E. Marsh of Hampton, Virginia; and a sister Susan M. Glicoes of Fairfax, Virginia. He should be remembered as a loving husband, father, son and brother dedicated to his family and friends.

Services were held on Wednesday, May 31, 1995 at the Old Post Chapel, Ft. Myers, Virginia and Arlington National Cemetery. In lieu of flowers, contributions in honor of C.T.'s memory may be made to the C.T. Marsh Memorial Fund in care of the Park City Education Foundation, Park City, Utah, 84060.

How To Survive The Job Search
By Nancy Sakol

Q: Dear...Search: Please tell me what to make of this. I have been a secretary for a prominent law firm for just over ten years. I have been a dedicated, devoted, loyal employee. I have never been involved in office politics, and believe me that in itself can be a soap opera. I have always been a team oriented individual with a pitch-in attitude. So what is the problem? My problem is that after ten full years of service, I got my "walking papers". The company handed me an envelope at the end of Friday business with a note attached telling me that my services were no longer needed and enclosed was a severance check for two weeks pay. Imagine how mortified I was when I got home that evening only to open my paycheck and find this. There are several things in the office that belong to me, as I have accumulated some personal things in my work station over the past years. I have absolutely not a clue as to what happened. I have not heard from anyone in the company in the 2-1/2 weeks that I have been gone now. What do you suggest I do? E.H. - Waukegan.

A: Dear E.H. I am just as confused as you are. First of all, if the reason was not apparent as to your termination...Why didn't you bother to ask? I cannot imagine that signs were forthcoming with maybe the exception of a lay-off. Poor attendance, failure to comply with corporate rules or regulations...Excessive tardiness...some thing or some reason. But the fact remains that here you sit...never having made the attempt to find out why. If for nothing else, after ten years of service I can not buy that a company would not fill you in as to the cause of termination, but more importantly, your lack of not trying to pursue the reasons is a problem in itself. For all you know, there were lay-offs across the board and here you are taking this personally. At very least, make arrangements to pick up your personal belongings at a time that you arrange with your former superior. At that time, you will hopefully have the opportunity to find out just what this was all about.

Q: I am currently without employment and a telephone too! My next door neighbor has been kind enough to offer his telephone number to add to my resume and he will take messages. Could this hinder my getting a job if word gets out that I don't have a telephone? M.D. - Libertyville.

A: Dear M.D. Only if you don't get your messages!

Note: Nancy Sakol is a licensed personnel professional and President of Superior Personnel in Gurnee. Letters can be sent to Nancy at 4949 Grand Ave., Gurnee, IL 60031.

HARTFORD

The two-story Hartford combines elegance with livability in a floor design that is spacious and functional. With the master suite on the lower floor and the rest of the sleeping area on the upper floor. The Hartford is ideal for a family with school age children. This plan will also work well for empty nesters with grown children returning often to visit. The top floor can be sealed off when not in use.

The covered front porch frames an attractive brick and glass entryway. With a barrel vault, open to the second floor, light streams in to enhance the spacious feeling.

To the left of the entry, a vaulted swing room can serve as a small den, library or sewing room. Optional doors provide privacy, or leave them off for a more open effect.

The large master suite is situated for maximum privacy. A skylight brightens the sleeping area and a huge walk-in closet provides plenty of space for your wardrobe. A separate vanity sits just outside the private bathroom. The covered back deck, ideal for a hot tub, can be easily accessed.

The walk-through kitchen is great for a family on the go. A central cooktop and eating bar lets you prepare and serve food with a minimum of bother. The skylit nook brightens any meal. Other kitchen features include pantry, double ovens and raised dishwasher.

The large, vaulted family room is the hub of this home. Here family and friends can bask in the warmth of the corner fireplace while watching television or discussing the events of the day. The first floor also includes another full bath and a utility room with pull-down ironing board and laundry chute.

The top floor has three modest bedrooms, each with closet space and a large window. Extra storage room is in the hallway, along with a full bathroom.

The two-car garage has a shop/storage area with built-in work bench.

For a study kit of the HARTFORD (334-130), send $10.00, to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307-LP60, Eugene, OR 97402 (Be sure to specify plan name & number). For a collection of plan books featuring our most popular home plans, send $20 to Landmark.

How to check dogs for ticks, high temperatures

Ticks are prevalent during the summer and usually found in high grass and wooded areas. If you live in, or are visiting an area known to be tick-infested, check your pet and family daily for "bumps." Remember, if you do the body massage every evening, you will be aware of a new "bump" on you pet immediately.

A tick has a brown or black triangular-shaped body when it is not engorged with blood. One that has been attached to a host animal can enlarge to the size and shape of a jellybean. Eventually the engorged insect drops off and lays thousands of eggs.

Tick removal can be easy. It should never include such dangerous practices as burning the tick with a cigarette lighter while it is still attached to the pet, or using flammables such as gasoline. These tactics can result in severe burns, or even the death of the pet.

Here is a safe procedure for removal: Grasp the tick with tweezers, near the buried head. Rotate it one-quarter turn and gently, but firmly, pull it from the skin. Put the tick into a jar containing alcohol or kerosene, or flush it down the commode. Never smash it. To do so will likely release eggs that can hatch and compound your problems.

Taking dogs temperature

Fever is one of the earliest signs of an acute disease caused by microbes. The principal other causes of fever are severe injuries and tumors. The normal rectum temperature of a dog ranges between 101 and 102 degrees Fahrenheit, but since dogs cannot lose heat through perspiration as do many other animals, their temperature rises rapidly with exercise. A greyhound after racing can have a temp of 105 degrees. When the temperature of the surrounding air reaches 80 degrees or more, the temperature of a dog tends to rise.

Taking the temperature

1. Shake down the mercury
2. Use only an rectal thermometer use Vaseline on the bulb
3. Gently insert the thermometer, keeping the puppy completely still
4. Leave it in for at least three minutes before removing and reading.

"I always have good luck with your papers. I've run ads with the Fox Lake Press for eight or nine years and have always rented the apartment right away."
B.S., Mt. Prospect.

"The response was overwhelming! We had to cancel our ad after the first week on our Fox Lake house. We only wished we had 30 houses to rent for all those who called."
Thank you Lakeland Newspapers!"
C.L., Lake Zurich.

"I was delighted that I got quite a lot of calls after placing my ad in the Lakeland Newspapers. I got the Caponey's treasures

Antique Warehouse of Lake Villa, 3704 N. Rte. 83, is the location of a not so new Haircutting Salons, Caponey's Hairstyling. The salon is furnished with antique barber chairs, backbar and other barber shop collectibles.

The furnishings were purchased at an auction by the owners of the two Antique Warehouse Malls. The auctioneer claims that the barber shop equipment came from the Lexington Hotel, home of the famous gangster, Al Capone. Although the authenticity of this claim has yet to be substantiated the name Caponey's Hairstyling was suitably adopted. One can truly Imagine Al Capone sitting in barber chairs as grand as these, when a shave and a haircut was just six bits.

Those days are long gone but the memories still remain at Caponey's Hairstyling.

Crafters needed

The Lake County August Art and Craft Show will be held Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 26 and 27, at the Lake County Fairgrounds, Rtes. 45 and 120, Grayslake.

The show is open to all types of handcrafted media. Food or commercially made items not accepted.

All exhibits must be the work of the exhibitor. Space sizes are 8 foot by 10 foot, and include on 8 foot optional table. The fee is $100 per space.

Interested artist and crafters who would like to be considered for space should contact the Lake County Promotions at, P.O. Box 461, Grayslake, IL 60030 or call 223-1433.

Antique Alley

Back in 1990 the first antique mall in the Chain O'Lakes area opened in Fox Lake. The mall, which is housed in the old Ingleside bowling alley, was named Antique Alley.

The mall houses more than 4,000 square feet of antique and collectibles. Owner manager Sandy Wagner says, "We have quality items here at Antique Alley. When people are looking for a sturdy or unique piece of furniture, a picture, or that little something different for their home they should stop in to see us. We offer old fashion customer service and prices."

Antique Alley at 415 S. Washington, between Rte. 59 and Rollins Road, Fox Lake.

Custer's Last Stand

The 23rd Annual Custer's Last Stand Festival of the Arts, a not-for-profit arts organization, is accepting exhibitor applications from artists, craftspeople, antique dealers, food vendors and selected retail and home and garden businesses. This award winning show will take place on June 17 and 18 in Evanston. The festival starts at 10 a.m. and runs until 9 p.m. each day. The festival also features three show stages and 28 restaurants.

Dahm, Mikrut ready to assist CHS to more sectional success

STEVE PETERSON

Staff Reporter

Last spring, Ryan Dahm and Andy Mikrut were in the stands cheering as Carmel won the Barrington sectional and advanced to the IHSA baseball's Elite Eight.

They are playing major roles as Carmel returns to Barrington High as Cary-Grove regional champions.

Dahm had a 6-for-6 day at the plate while Mikrut shut the Trojans down in a 17-7 Carmel win.

"It will help a lot. Coach (Chuck Gandolfi) was saying before the game about the tradition. We are a lot more determined to get to Kane County," Dahm said.

Dahm had 6 RBIs as he had a double and four single day. Mikrut, with his side-armed delivery which reminds fans of Dan Quisenberry, held the Trojans at bay after a 5-5 tie. Carmel outscored the Trojans 12-2 in the final four innings.

The sectional semifinal is June 3 at Barrington High. The final, with a right to play at Elstrom Stadium in Geneva in the state quarterfinal, is June 5.

"It feels pretty natural for me," Mikrut said of his delivery style.

He had to change the type of fastballs he throws following rotator cuff surgery last winter.

Dahm is one of Carmel's best hitters after sitting out last year.

"Most of the pitches were right in there," he said.

"We came in today very concentrated and focused. We wanted to win the regional. They kept answering us in the beginning (hence the 5-5 deadlock after two innings) and that is a credit to them," Carmel Coach Chuck Gandolfi said.

Gandolfi has high praise for the caliber of ball Carmel plays against which allows a fourth-seeded team to reach Barrington for the third time in the Gandolfi era. "That says a lot for the league," he said.

The super sophomores continued to contribute. Mike McMahon had 4 RBIs with as many singles.

"Having them is a real benefit," Mikrut said.

"Our goal all year was to win the regional title," catcher Adam Haravon of CHS said. "Andy was hitting his spots and got them to hit ground-ball outs."

It was Haravon who provided the key hit, if one could say there was one out of 23. His double was part of a 5-run fifth inning which gave the Corsairs a 10-5 lead. Dahm, hitting ahead of Haravon, had an RBI single following a single and a hits batsman.

He retired the last two batters in the second after Cary tied the game. He allowed 5 hits and fanned one before Pat Glynn pitched the final three outs.

Mikrut is one of few seniors on this Carmel team which improved to 11-14. Carmel used its on style of rallying - the bunt for a hit in downing Johnsburg 5-2 following a 4-1 win over Mundelein.

Carmel got four runs in the top of the fifth inning and had another in the sixth to advance.

Steve Goblebiowski walked, stole second and went to third on Brad Salata's bunt single. He scored the first run of the fifth inning rally as he and Salata teamed for a double steal. Dahm and Haravon's RBI singles scored the tying runs.

Mike Burens beat out a bunt hit, Goblebiowski's bunt hit and a balk added up to a run and a chance to play on Memorial Day.

MHS to sponsor B-Ball camp

Lake County's largest youth basketball camp, the Mustang Camp, will be offered June 12-16 at Mundelein High School.

The summer camp will be open to boys in kindergarten through eighth-grade. The camp will be directed by Dennis Kessel, who will be assisted by former players.

Kindergarten through fifth-graders will practice from 8:30 to 11 a.m. Cost is $40. Sixth- through eighth-graders will practice from 11:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. There will be a $5 per child reduction in fees for families with two or more children in the program.

The camp will emphasize the proper fundamentals and strive to develop the proper attitude toward dedication, commitment, aggressiveness and enthusiasm for winning basketball. The camp will also stress discipline, intensity and individual improvement.

Camp features include shot development, free-throw shooting, contests, awards, dribbling techniques and team offense.

For more information, call Mundelein High School's Athletic Office at 949-2200.

Mundelein captures regional softball title

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Staff Reporter

Lindsey Prezell's blazing fastball is difficult enough, but when every girl in the lineup hits, it makes for very quick games for Mundelein foes.

Mundelein's latest victim was rival Libertyville as the two battled for survival in the regional final.

The Lady Mustangs, however, were the ones who celebrated around the regional championship trophy after blanking Libertyville 10-0.

"Coming in, I was thinking this is the last time I'll play Libertyville in anything, so this was a nice win," said Prezell, a graduating senior who competed against the Wildcats for four years in volleyball, basketball and softball. "I can't believe we're not going to play Libertyville again."

Ironically, Prezell will shortly become a Wildcat herself as the Northwestern-bound standout pitcher will be testing her fastball against Big Ten opponents. Prezell will be attending Northwestern on a softball scholarship next fall.

First things first. The regional championship awarded the state's No. 1 team the opportunity to advance to the Barrington sectional Saturday as the Mustangs continue their hunt for the state title.

Against Libertyville, Prezell posted 12 strikeouts to bring her total to 384, one shy of claiming the state strikeout record in a year.

"This was a great win. It was a team effort," said Mundelein Coach Perry Wilhelm. "The bats were alive, and Lindsey pitched great again."

While Prezell dominated on the mound, the rest of the team answered at the plate. The Mustangs connected for 17 hits, and every hitter in the batting order was credited with a hit.

"It's great," Prezell said of her offensive support. "We probably have one of the deepest lineups around."

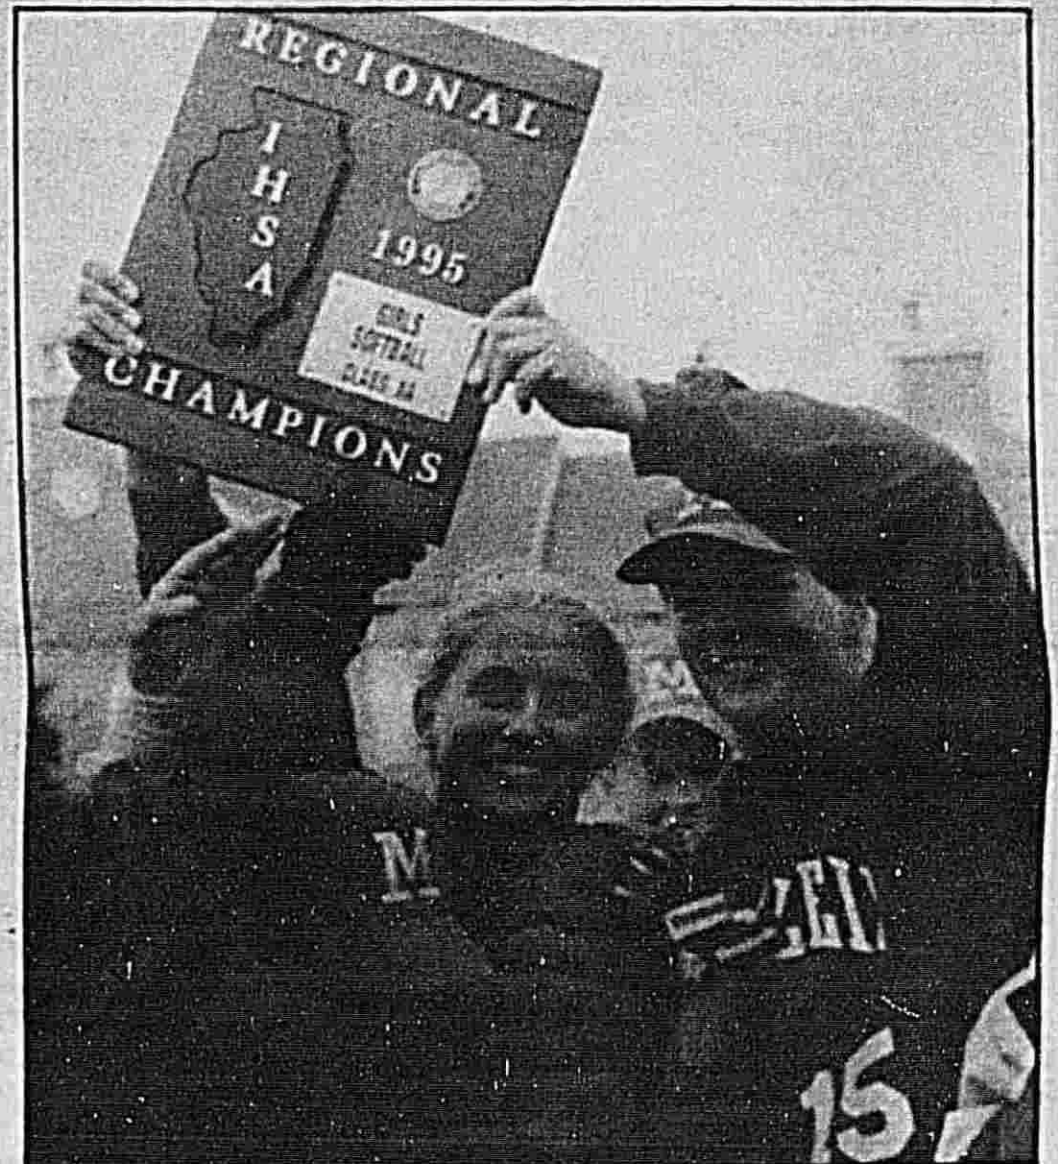

Prezell started the bats going with a solo home run to lead off the game. Toni Campbell (3-for-4) singled and scored on Lynn T'Niemi's single. The Starkey sisters, Melissa and Jackie, added RBI hits, and Mundelein led 5-0 after the first inning.

The Campbell-T'Niemi duo singled and doubled before Mandi Miller knocked in Campbell with an RBI-single, giving Mundelein a 6-0 lead.

In the third, Jackie Starkey got her second hit and scored on Gina Pasquesi's two-run homer to centerfield. Campbell doubled. See SOFTBALL page C22

Hearty SHS booters upset LHS

Stevenson High used home-field advantage and sloppy conditions to its benefit as the Patriots pulled off the soccer stunner of the post-season tourney, ousting Libertyville.

The fourth-seed Patriots (14-4-1) advanced to their own sectional final and one step away from state's Elite Eight with a 2-1 win over Libertyville.

Amanda Cutter, a sophomore midfielder, assisted on both Stevenson goals, scored one in each half. Another sophomore, Ashley Gordon, scored for the home team in the first half for a 1-0 halftime lead. Tricia DeClark, the heroine of the tourney so far, scored the silencer in the second half for insurance the Pats would need.

All-stater Jessica Narajowski scored a second-half goal for LHS, but it was not enough.

The win was sweet revenge for the Patriots, who were defeated by Libertyville in a North Suburban Conference match.

"They did a fantastic job in that match. Libertyville is one of the best teams in the state. We have progressively got better all year long. Field conditions like this are a great equalizer. I have the ultimate respect for Libertyville," SHS Coach Mark Schartner said.

The Wildcats had won a regional with a 1-0 shutout over Lake Forest as Katie Doherty scored a first-half goal. But the 17th win and the shot at a second straight trip to Hoffman Estates for the state finals was denied.

"We have some girls over there with some awfully big hearts," Schartner said as the team celebrated.

"SHS is overachieving. That is what these kids are doing," he said in a break of the off-again, on-again rains in Lincolnshire. "We have some outstanding soccer players here. The thing they bring to this school is their heart and their desire."

The Stevenson defense and goalie Danielle O'Neill forged the sectional semifinal win by stopping the highpowered offense. Stevenson battled Buffalo Grove, 2-1 winners over Hersey.

"Danielle has really elevated her play in the second half of the season. It has been unbelievable how she has taken charge of the

SHS falls shy in state bid

It was the kind of soccer match Stevenson High had played all year - exciting and down to the wire.

But lady luck was not on the Patriots side Tuesday. Buffalo Grove kept its overtime mark in tact with a 3-2 win. The victory gives the Bison the Stevenson sectional title.

Sophomore Rachel Smith's goal with just less than 8 minutes remaining in the extra session was the difference.

Kelly Cole, one of the promising freshmen on the 15-5-4 team, scored both goals.

Tricia DeClark, who helped Stevenson upset Libertyville 2-1, gained an assist.

Cutter is one of the best sweepers in the state and she proved it again today. She shut a lot of stuff down. There are instincts when it comes to being at the right place at the right time," Schartner said.

O'Neill is one of five sophomores on the Stevenson roster while Cutter is one of four seniors.

The defense registered its 10th shutout, as Narajowski's goal came on a penalty kick when she beat O'Neill.

"We are getting smarter. They are playing very smart soccer. All Libertyville had done all year was get the ball to the wins. We tried to force them to send the ball to the middle and force them to send the ball to the outside. I thought we did a good job. We gave up a lot more corner kicks then we wanted to, but we did not give up a lot of crosses. That was our whole focus in practice yesterday," Schartner said.

The strategy worked, making it well worth the while for hundreds of soccer fans who sat through a rainy Saturday afternoon.

"You will not see a better match in the state finals," Schartner said.

Warren's Mays places third in triple jump at state

DANIEL L. CHAMNESS

Correspondent

Adversity breeds champions. Saturday, which will probably have the distinction of being one of the worst weather days ever at the state final, did not seem to affect the focused.

Count Gurnee Warren's Julius Mays among the focused.

The senior triple jumper, who did not taste defeat this year until the conference meet, conducted business as usual and jumped 46-9 for third place.

"It did not matter to me," said Mays. "I can jump well indoors also. I got my 46-9 out of the way immediately on my first jump on Saturday."

Mays jumped 46-4 on Friday to qualify for the finals on Saturday. The jump placed him fourth among competitors on Friday. His sectional leap of 45-9.5 was out of medal contention.

"I was down here last year and that helped me get used to jumping in front of crowds," said Mays. "I like the way my career at Gurnee Warren went. Each year, we got a little better. I am looking to continue in college, but I have no idea where I will be going."

Several other area competitors made Saturday's finals, but did not make all-state status.

Antioch's Kevin Erickson qualified for the 800 meter finals with a run of 1:55.99. The senior placed third in his preliminary heat. Unfortunately, Erickson's pace of 1:58.76 placed him tenth on Saturday.

In addition to Erickson, Antioch was represented by Brad Rubash, Mark Mazur and Dave Lawrence. Rubash missed both the 110 high hurdles and the 300-meter hurdles finals by less than half a second. Rubash ran a 14.82 in the prelims of the 110 highs, but his 15.37 in the semi-finals did not qualify for the finals.

In the 300 meter hurdles, Rubash's dash of :39.74 was the 12th fastest time. The top nine times qualify for finals.

Mazur's time of :54.72 in the 400 meter did not make Saturday's finals. Dave Lawrence finished his career with a 141-5 throw in the discus.

Libertyville's Andrew Wilgress was his school's sole representative at the state finals. The all-state cross country runner finished 23rd in the 3200 meter run with a time of 9:54.

Like Wilgress, Carmel's Ruben

Rivera and Grayslake's Jason Gantt were their respective school's sole representatives. Rivera capped his junior year with a 11.5 in the 100 meter dash, while Gantt's time of 4:26.66 in the 1600 meter run did not make the finals.

There is good news and bad news to report for Warren High tennis fortunes.

To get the bad news out of the way, Warren was shutout at the Lake Forest sectional.

The good news is virtually the entire team returns next spring.

"We were competitive this year and next year we should have a good shot at it," Warren Coach Pete Campbell said of the North Suburban Conference.

Kevin Klimesmith is one of the seniors who will be missed. He finished 12-13 at No. 1 singles.

Sophomore Adam Bruschaven finished fourth in the conference and nearly beat a highly regarded Libertyville player.

Key juniors to fill in spots next year are: Brian Merzlicker, Dijay Joshi, Frank Deluca and Brian Mahus.

Corty Campbell and Jayson Roberts finished with a 21-8 record at second doubles and they will be back. They placed in all tourney.

Scott Fedor and Dave Moo were 15-1 in the regular season and both may be back.

Eric and Scott McCann were 11-5 at another doubles spot.

Meanwhile, the frosh-soph team under the direction of Greg Cohen won 11 of 12 matches.

Hawthorn Lanes announces scholarship winners

The winners of the third annual Hawthorn Lanes Youth Program Scholarship Tournament have been announced. More than $2,000 in college scholarship money was available and only youth bowling in Hawthorn Lanes Youth Program were eligible.

The tournament was a three-game handicap event with the top 10 spots being awarded college scholarship money ranging from $450 for first place to $100 for 10th place. The money will be held in escrow, according to ISBPA guidelines until the winners attend college.

The top 10 finishers and their awards are as follows:

		Total Pins	Scholarship
Avery Amores	Vernon Hills	705	$450
Stephen Carter	Lincolnshire	683	350
Eric Esch	Vernon Hills	664	250
Bobby Raymond	Vernon Hills	650	200
Robby Spigner	Vernon Hills	645	175
Dan Rosenberg	Vernon Hills	642	150
Keith Hormel	Vernon Hills	639	125
Brett Maras	Vernon Hills	634	100
Gregg Pregrockl	Libertyville	626	100
Matt O'Desky	Buffalo Grove	623	100

Three Hawthorn Lanes Youth Program Scholarship Tournaments were held this past season and more than $2,958 in scholarship money was awarded. Since 1993, more than $8,317 has been awarded.

More than 400 youth participated in Hawthorn Lanes Youth Program during the 1994-95 season. The program features weekly bowling; three scholarship tournaments; Halloween Costume contest; December Holiday treat and No-Tap tournament; Valentine treat and "Beat the Coach" Tournament; and "I Beat the Pro" year-ending tournament and banquet.

Sign-ups are being taken now for the 1995-96 Hawthorn Lanes Youth Program, which begins in August. For more information contact Nancy Esch, Hawthorn Lanes youth coordinator at 367-1600, ext. 226.

Wildcats upset Warren in regional semifinal

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Libertyville kept its hopes alive for a regional title by defeating Warren, but the Wildcats would eventually learn why Mundelein is the No. 1 team in the state in the title match.

For Warren, the Blue Devils (17-7) concluded their winning season in the regional semifinals. Only two years ago, Warren had difficulty gaining 8 wins in a season.

Despite nearly sending the game into extra innings, Warren's seventh-inning comeback was a run short as the Wildcats won 6-5.

"I think we played a good ball game, but two bad innings cost us," said Warren Coach Tim VanHeirseele.

Tracy Fielder gave Warren a temporary 1-0 lead in the first with 300-foot double to drive home Amy Van Camp, who singled earlier.

Libertyville stormed back in the second. Jamie Vinci reached on a fielder's choice and Erica Egidi singled. Julie Virta tied the game with an RBI single, and Briana Crane was credited with a sacrifice fly to score the go-ahead run.

In the fourth, Libertyville score four more times.

Egidi and Virta connected for back-to-back doubles. Crane gained an RBI on a bunt, Katie Kapfer had an RBI double, and Amanda Lamplinen tripled to push home the sixth run.

"We hit the ball nicely. We got help from both ends of the order," said Libertyville Coach Bob Fox. "Warren's a good hitting team, but we didn't make any mistakes."

Warren never gave up.

In the fifth, bases were loaded when Shelly Broeder knocked a 2-run single to right, cutting the lead to 6-3.

After Jodi Botsford and VanCamp singled in the seventh, Fielder unloaded with a two-run triple which brought the Blue Devils within a run.

"I just wanted to make contact because I knew we needed some runs," said Fielder, who will bring her big bat to the lineup next year.

With Fielder standing 90 feet away from tying the game, Libertyville starter Kapfer barreled down to strikeout Brianne Fischer to end the game.

"Katie (Kapfer) just goes out there and doesn't worry about anything. She just pitches," Fox noted.

After upsetting No. 2 Warren, the No. 3 Wildcats could not repeat an upset over Mundelein in the regional title game.

As for the improved team from Warren, VanHeirseele and Fielder said the Blue Devils will be back next year.

"I'm very proud of the way they came back," said VanHeirseele, who rebuilt the Warren program after it suffered several losing seasons.

"One thing I wanted to do was create some stability," he said. "They're a wonderful group. Hopefully, we'll turn the corner next year."

But Fielder vowed, "We'll be back next year."

Bunt spoils ACHS regional hopes

KEVIN HANRAHAN
Staff Reporter

Antioch's hopes for a regional title was spoiled by a perfectly executed bunt.

After shutting out powerhouse Johnsburg 10-0, the Lady Sequoits had their eyes on the regional crown in the title match against Woodstock. But a walk and two perfect bunts pushed home the winning run in the seventh inning as Woodstock nipped Antioch 2-1.

"It was a good softball game. I think our kids played well, and we pitched out of some jams," said Antioch Coach Judy Smithheiser. "They executed a well-place bunt to score the winning run. Woodstock was the winner."

While Woodstock held onto a 1-0 lead, Antioch batters were blanked at the plate during the first four innings until Jamie Silarski reached aboard on a walk in the fifth. Courtney Konrath then reached safely on a bunt. Kelly Periman drove home Konrath on a hard-hit smash to first base to tie the game 1-1.

But that would be it for Antioch as Woodstock's bunting heroics in the seventh ended Antioch's season.

"We knew this was going to be a tough team," said Smithheiser. She praised her team's 16-12 effort this year.

"This group of kids worked their hearts all year," Smithheiser said.

Antioch made it to the regional final by defeating up-and-coming Grant in the first round of the regional and Johnsburg in the semifinal. Antioch knocked out Johnsburg standout pitcher Katie Parker in the fourth inning before going on to win 10-0.

"That was a highlight, but it was a friendly game," Smithheiser said.

With sophomore pitchers Silarski (8-5) and Stephanie Haenchen returning next year, Smithheiser believes Antioch's future looks promising.

"She's only a sophomore, so she'll be back. We've also got some young kids coming up who can play ball," Smithheiser said with an optimistic smile.

KEVIN HANRAHAN

Grant reckons to be a perennial force in girls softball.

The team that suffered a 14-loss season last year ended this year with a 10-9 record. Antioch concluded Grant's season with a 5-3 victory in the first round of the regional.

"Our record doesn't really reflect how well this team improved," said first-year Coach Sue Wings. "Their attitude is great and they brought back enthusiasm to the program."

Grant jumped out to an early 2-0 lead. Katie Klein doubled home the first run, and she scored on an infield grounder by Vanessa Schramm.

Antioch scored four times in their half of the first inning. Stephanie Montgomery and Jamie Silarski walked before Courtney Konrath singled home the first run. With two outs, Katie Fetting belted home the tying and leading runs with a 2-run single. Kelly Periman tripled for the fourth run in the inning.

Erin O'Connell was credited with Antioch's final run in the second with an RBI single.

Grant starter Sacy Selle pitched out of an Antioch threat with two runners in scoring position and one out. Selle struckout the cleanup hitters to snuff out any more scoring.

"We settled down after the first inning, and we stayed aggressive and stayed positive," Wings said.

Grant added its final run in the third. Stacie Morley hit a Texas leaguer and eventually scored on Klein's sacrifice fly.

Despite the season-ending loss, Wings remains optimistic about Grant's future in softball.

"Looking to the future, we're going to be good and we're going to be young," Wings said. "Their attitude is going to carry them farther than the talent. I'm really anxious to start next year."

Rams look to the future with Franks

Emily Frank does not have to worry about batting against the rapid-fire arm of Lindsay Prezell again.

The Grayslake High sophomore will remember she made solid contact twice against the Northwestern-bound Mustang hurler in a regional quarterfinal game.

The Mustangs (32-1) started their road to the sectional semifinals with a workmanlike 16-0, five-inning win over the once victorious Rams.

"I'd swing when she would release it," Frank said.

Frank broke up a string of strikeouts with a flyball to left. Her second time up, in the fourth inning, she ripped a clean single to left. She was out trying to steal second base, though.

"We have a young team with only three seniors graduating - Kelly Roberts, Meghan Jeffrey and Erin Lopez," Rams Coach Carla Carmody said.

Frank and her sister, Hannah, came to the varsity this year and will have two more years. Hannah plays catcher. She was given compliments by the homeplate umpire as she aggressively went out of the playing field to snare a foul ball.

Grayslake downed North Chicago 17-1 as Laura Smith gained the win. Emily Frank had 2 hits while Smith had a double, Lopez had 2 hits and a walk and Roberts had a pair of singles. Melissa Lahann added a double.

Both the Rams and Mustangs had diplomas in their hands by day's end. MHS seniors changed from softball jerseys to cap-and-gowns for their ceremony that evening. Grayslake had graduated seniors before the tourney began.

Panthers poised for '96 loop crown bid

An early exit from the post-season tournament does not dampen Leroy Nordlund's optimism.

The Round Lake High softball coach has good reason to be happy about the future. Four all-Northwest Suburban Conference players return for 1996. And the NWSC will be without Johnsburg's Katie Parker.

Leading the returning standouts will be junior Tina Meyer. She hit .605 this year after a .546 batting average last year. "She was very consistent. It is hard to say if she improved as a hitter, but she added 50 points to her batting average and was a very good first baseman," Nordlund said.

Tonya Hopkins made the team as a .440 hitter in conference games and a third baseman.

Grace Alaimo, shortstop, is on the team for the third time. She hit .420.

Jamie D'Andrea, a catcher, hit .360. "She is the best defensive catcher in the league," Nordlund said.

The future is also represented by two freshmen. Kristy Nichols had two singles against Libertyville in the 9-4 loss.

Brandi Dobrzanski and junior Bonnie Pederson (7-16) form a pitching duo as Round Lake looks to better a 8-14 overall record next year.

The only senior is outfielder Carrie Ashworth.

The Panthers plan an active summer of softball in preparation for the '96 season. The first three weeks of the summer league will be spent while Round Lake is still in school due to a teachers' strike last fall.

and T'Niemi singled her home for the 9-0 advantage.

Libertyville's Erica Egidi spoiled Prezell's no hitter in the third with an opposite-field single.

Mundelein finished the game in the sixth. Jill Wollberg sliced a triple down the first base line and became the 10th Mustang to cross the plate on Melissa Starkey's blast to center.

"I think they wanted to go out and set the record straight," Wilhelm said. "We were able to produce all the way up the lineup. That's a coaches dream."

Campbell noted the players have been taking extra batting practice in preparation for post-season play and to prove the Mustangs are more than a one-person team.

"Every day we take a million swings," Campbell said. "We want to be ready for any pitch."

On the mound, Prezell also appreciates the team's offensive production.

"It's great. It takes some of the pressure off," Prezell said. "We have a mature team, and everyone is focused."

With Prezell breaking state records on the mound and the batters smoking the ball all over the field, Mundelein's pursuit of the state title looks promising.

Warren hitting never rests

The hitting attack returned at the right time for Warren High's softball season.

A 10-2 win over Carmel extended the season into the regional semifinals at Mundelein.

The Blue Devils (17-6) scored early, with eight of their 10 runs coming in the first two innings.

"It was important for us to jump on them early," Warren Coach Tim VanHeirseele said.

Jodi Botsford walked, Amy Van Camp singled and both scored on an RBI single by Amy Jensen.

Liz VanDaehle was 2-of-3 with an RBI triple; Tracy Fiedler had a 2-RBI triple and Tanielle Baaske had 2-of-3 with an RBI from her designated hitter spot.

Winning pitcher Dawn Dever struckout 2, walked 3 and gave up 4 hits.

VanHeirseele was pleased with his team's defense.

Beth Stolarik suffered the loss for Carmel, which ended the season at 5-11.

All-conference picks return to SHS softball

Although their bid for a sectional spot fell shy, four returning all-conference players have Coach Larry Fredrichs believing Stevenson will be strong in softball again next year.

The Patriots saw their season come to an end at the Deerfield regional final with a 3-1 loss to New Trier. It will be New Trier (24-7) which battles Mundelein in the first sectional semifinal at Barrington June 3.

Stevenson (24-7) fell victim to its own over aggressiveness as the Pats fell to top seeded Trevians.

Nicole Eterno and Molly Harrigan walked in the second inning after one out. Eterno was out on a steal attempt and Harrigan took second. She then scored when New Trier's defense failed to cover a bunt by Felice Rosenzweig. Harrigan scored, but Rosenzweig was picked off.

"We were a little over-aggressive," SHS Coach Larry Fredrichs said. "We like to score early and we could have had a three, four or five-run inning."

That allowed the Trevians to seize control. They tied the game in the fifth inning and won it with two in the top of the seventh.

Stevenson had downed Lake Forest 6-1 and host Deerfield 8-2 to make the regional final.

It will be the two dozen wins and second place in the North Suburban Conference that the Pats will remember.

Making the all-NSC are juniors: Christy Miller, Melissa Garringer, Eterno and Erin Morley.

"The game was atypical of a Morley game. Of the 55 hits she has given up this year, 6 came against New Trier," he said.

Morley shared pitching duties with Amy Cornsford. Morley was 11-4 with 2 saves and a 1.17 ERA. She was 6-2 in the NSC with 52 innings, 7 earned runs and 31 strikeout vs. 13 walks.

Eterno had some impressive hitting stats. She was .354 average for NSC games with a .418 on-base percentage and .937 fielding average in the NSC. Overall, she hit .297 with a .373 on-base average and fielded at a .920 clip.

Garringer set a school record for first basemen with 182 put outs. She hit .369 with an .508 on-base percentage and .961 fielding percentage in league games. Overall, she was .415 average with .526 on-base and .948 fielding.

Miller broke a six-year school record with 42 runs scored. She had a .422 average in league games, .559 on-base. Overall, she hit at a .393 clip and had a .509 on-base average.

"The future looks great. The junior varsity was 24-1 so we should be able to fill the holes we do have with quality players," Fredrichs said.

Libertyville, Stevenson experience early upsets

Two area upsets took Lake County baseball by surprise this regional season.

After posting its best record in the school's history, Libertyville (32-5) ended its season prematurely. Likewise, Stevenson (26-9) found itself looking toward next year after the first round of the regional.

In both cases, Maine West was the culprit.

No. 5 Maine West first upset No. 4 Stevenson 7-2 in the regional opener. The Patriots opened by scoring an unearned run in the first, but after that, Maine West starter Anthony Verchetto silenced Stevenson's powerful bats.

Behind Verchetto's solid performance on the mound, Maine West was able to explode for five runs in the fourth inning to seal the victory.

Stevenson added a run in the sixth when Matt Beall drove home Daniel Spies.

If one upset was not enough, Maine West sought for another against Libertyville, a team that was destined for a state title. Maine West put those state dreams to rest with a 3-2 victory.

This time, Josh Witt was the hero. Witt deadened Libertyville's potent offense by allowing two hits and struck out four in four innings of work. Reliever Bill Regan stepped up in the fifth to finish the job.

In the sixth inning, Witt drove home the game-winning runs with a two-run double.

Libertyville's Ray Quick gained an RBI when pinch-runner Kevin Sehner crossed the plate on Quick's grounder to shortstop.

The Wildcats came within one run when Ben Grindel scored on a Lukas McKnight grounder. Libertyville could not tie the score in the seventh, ending its history-making season.

LAKE ZURICH

Lake Zurich ended its banner season by dropping the regional opener to Rolling Meadows 3-1.

Rolling Meadows jumped on the board early with a 1-0 lead, but Lake Zurich tied the game in the third inning. After Ryan Wierzbicki drew a walk, Mike Gullaksen doubled him home.

Lake Zurich could only muster four hits on the day, but threatened a couple of times.

In the fourth, Todd Brandel singled, Jon Gifford walked and Mike Stump loaded the bases by reaching aboard on an error. Lake Zurich could not get the clutch hit.

Similarly in the seventh inning, Lake Zurich loaded the bases but could not produce a run.

MUNDELEIN

Mundelein's season came to an end when cross-town rival Carmel defeated the Mustangs 4-1.

A three-run third inning keyed fourth-seeded Carmel past fifth-seeded Mundelein. Carmel went on to take the regional title. Last year, the Corsairs advanced to the state quarterfinals.

In the deciding third inning, Brad Salata doubled home Dan Bacehowski. Salata scored on a wild pitch, and Kevin Russell crossed the plate on an infield grounder. Mike Burens scored in the fourth inning for Carmel.

Mundelein broke the shutout when Mike McCaulou scored from first on a Chriss Happ single.

The Mustangs finished the year 15-17-1, while Carmel will play in the Barrington sectional Saturday.

RL's Unroe makes ML debut

Baseball fans may wish to keep that box score from the Milwaukee - Minnesota Twins game Tuesday.

The contest may have marked the first time two major leaguers who got their start at Lake County High Schools played not only in the same game, but at the same position.

Tim Unroe joined the Brewers the afternoon before the team's 5-3 win. He played first base as well as Minnesota's Scott Stahoviak, who came in as a defensive replacement.

"I had heard he may come up before July 4," Gene Hanson, Unroe's coach at College of Lake County, said.

Unroe was 1-of-4 on the day. He lined a single to center in the fourth off Twins losing pitcher Kevin Tapani.

"He has all the natural ability. He is big (6 foot 3 inches, 200 pounds) and he is very fast and strong," Hanson said.

Unroe had only two years of high school baseball at Round Lake before reporting to CLC. He shined his second year there, with a .400 average and 16 homers with all-Skyway Conference and all-state honors. He went on to Lewis University, where he gained Division II player-of-the-year honors.

Unroe played shortstop, third base and center field for CLC before eventually settling on first base in the minors.

Unroe reported to the Brewers' spring training camp but No. 66 was sent to AAA New Orleans. He made an impact there. He hit .328 with 2 homers and 18 RBIs in 30 games at first base.

He was called up to Milwaukee when Mike Fedders was placed on the 15-day disabled list.

Milwaukee's winning pitcher was Sid Roberson, who gained his first major league win.

Stahoviak, a Carmel High graduate, did not get a hit in his only time up.

The victory, before 8,694 County Stadium fans, helped the Brewers end an eight-game home loss string.

Unroe's first minor league season was in 1992 at Class A Helena. He hit .278 with 16 homers and 58 RBIs. At Stockton in 1993, he was the top fielding third baseman and hit .251 with 63 RBIs. Last year at AA El Paso, he hit .310 and led the league with 103 RBIs.

He was signed by Frank Piet and Phil Rizzo after being selected in the 28th round of the 1992 draft.

Warren waits for sectional spot

Warren High dodged the rain-drops and Waukegan but could not overcome strong pitching, timely Zion-Benton hits and their own miscues in the regional final round.

Warren forced several Waukegan miscues in coasting to a 7-1 regional baseball semifinal win. Tuesday, Warren High could not pull off what it did in basketball - beat Zion-Benton. The Zee-Bees advanced to the sectional at Barrington June 3, with a 5-2 win.

Warren took advantage of 4 errors and as many hits-batters as Joel Dangel gained the win Saturday.

"We knew their defense was strong up the middle, so we wanted to hit the ball to the corners. Joel did a nice job as always," Warren Coach Dar Townsend said.

Dangel's fastball was working well as he allowed only 3 hits and walked two. He was backed up by a double play and was up to the task each Waukegan challenge.

There was some talk of stopping the game, but after a 10-minute delay, the game resumed. "We wanted to finish it today," Dangel said.

Warren broke the Waukegan regional game at Bowen Park open with 5 runs over two innings, the second and third. Eric Bradley had a 2-hit game and stole a pair of bases in igniting key innings. Eric Hunzinger gained the other hit, a fifth inning RBI single.

That set the stage for Warren's big bid. The Blue Devils were "They hit the ball well and we did not make some of the plays. I got frustrated and got rattled and I lost a little focus there."

—Joel Dangel
WTHS pitcher

striving to do what no other Warren team had done in 23 years - gain a sectional spot. The last time was in 1972. Warren's last regional final was in 1992.

The tables were turned Tuesday.

Zion (22-9) pounded 4 hits off Dangel in the third inning, scoring 3 of its 5 runs and ending Warren's season at 17-12-1.

Dave Griffin gained the win as the junior matched Dangel's nine wins.

"He pitched a lot of varsity games for us last year as a sophomore, against guys like Kyle Kessel. Now he is a little bit more experienced," Zion Coach Gary Bereiter said. "We lost those last two games to Libertyville, but we thought with the second coming around, we would have a good shot at winning it."

Eckenstahlers earn all NSC kudos

STEVE PETERSON

A football saying is three things can happen when a team passes and two of them are bad. Such can be said of the walk or error in baseball. Little good comes of it, as Antioch High discovered Saturday.

The Sequoits had their season ended by top-seeded Zion-Benton 15-0. The Sequoits saw their season close in the Waukegan regional's semifinal round.

Almost all of the Antioch bunch will be back for next year after winning a regional game and 10 other victories this wet spring. Antioch downed Grant 3-2 as Jim Groth scored the winning run on a fielder's choice.

The problem was Kevin Arft and Eric Eckenstahler had to be used that game - Eckenstahler for 5 and one-third innings.

"We played most of the year with eight of the nine starters sophomores or juniors. They have come a long way. They are all good, quality kids," Antioch Coach Paul Petty said.

Zion scored 11 runs in the third and fourth innings combined to earn a spot in the regional final against second-seed Warren High.

Although the likes of Mike Petersen and all-North Suburban Conference junior Kevin Eckenstahler return, there will be one void left by the graduation of 7-foot, 1-inch Eric Eckenstahler.

"That will be a big loss for us. He was the best pitcher in the conference. He had two no-hitters and 80 strikeouts and only 14 walks," Petty said.

Some other Eckenstahler numbers: a 7-1 record with a 0.20 ERA in the NSC and a 0.63 ERA overall.

Kevin Eckenstahler leads the returning Sequoits in hitting with a .324 average. Craig Curtis at .301 and sophomore third baseman Stuart Johnson at .305 were also members of the over .300 club. Petersen, in limited duty, hit .355.

As Eric Eckenstahler, a basketball star who led Antioch to a regional title, mulls over his college choices of Lewis University in Romeoville or Illinois State University in Normal, the returning Sequoits do not have much time to mull over a loss to Zion.

An active summer baseball schedule looms.
